HOOPER OFFERS PLAN, TO GET ANSWER "LATER"

Presents Minimum Demand of Strikers to Executives of Railroads.

[By the Associated Press]

Chicago, July 12—No definite reply to the shopmens' strike settlement proposals was given Chairman Hooper of the railroad labor board by representatives of the Railway Executives at a noon-day conference today. The executives said they would notify Mr. Hooper of their answer "later."

DISAPPOINTED.

Chairman Hooper said his chief purpose in meeting with the executives was to arrange a conference between them and B. M. Jewell, leader of the striking shopmen and he indicated that the attitude of the executives was disappointing.

HOPPERS PLANS.

[By The Associated Press.]

Chicago, July 12—A program for solution of the railroad shopmen's strike was drawn up today by Chairman Ben W. Hooper of the United States railroad labor board, after conferences with leaders of the shopmen, and was submitted to representatives of the railway executives from four sections of the country at noon today.

MINIMUM OF STRIKERS

Chairman Hooper's program, which is said to represent the minimum acceptable to the striking shopmen, is to be carried again to the shopmen's leaders later today with the comments and counter-proposals of the executives.

PROPOSALE SUGGESTED.

Tentative proposals to be considered in the peace conferences included the following.

That the railroads abolish contract system of farming out work to contractors.

That working rules governing overtime pay be modified

That the shopmen be given another hearing on the wage issues.

That the railroads agree to establish boards of adjustment to hear all disputes, except those involving wages.

THOSE INVITED

Invitations to attend today's "big four" conference were sent to the following: T. DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the railway executive association and other rail executives

Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers

W. G Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Firemen nd Enginemen

L E. Shepard, president of the Brotherhood of Railway conductors.

T E. Cashen, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America.

CONFIDENT.

When Chairman Hooper left the labor board offices for the meeting with the four executives he said he was confident some plan of settlement could be reached quickly

He said he expected to call President Harding on the telephone with a report on the success of his conference with the railway presidents.

TALKED WITH PRESIDENT.

The conference of Chairman Hooper and the railroad executives is said to be the direct result of a ten minute telephone conversation late last night between President Harding and W. L. McMenimen, labor member of the railroad labor board The promise of the executive to receive the shopmen's proposals through Chairman Hooper is understood to have been communicated to Mr. McMenimen by Mr. Harding

ACT SIGNIFICANT.

President Harding's intervention in the strike through his proclamation, calling for protection of transportation and the mails was accepted as bearing much significance and expectant eyes were turned toward Washington and the labor board in anticipation of further developments.

A telephone call from Washington for W. L. McMenimen, one of the three labor members of the board, was said by the Chicago Tribune to have come from the president. The telephone ...ator, the Tribune said, called the newspaper in an effort to locate Mr. McMenimen.

BIG FOUR TO MEET.

Fresh disorders at scattered points, while troops patrolled former trouble centers, arrangements for a conference today by the "big four" train service brotherhoods and an announcement by B M. Jewell, head of the striking shopmen that conferences were planned with representatives of twenty-one northwestern roads, were among other important developments in the rail strike today

Additional injunctions restraining strikers from interfering with railway operations were granted to several roads,

APPEAL FOR TROOPS.

New appeals for troops were made to the governors of Mississippi, Tennessee and Texas, while Governor Boyle of Nevada was asked by the Union Pacific for state intervention in the strike at Las Vegas.

Disorders occurred at Chicago, Milwaukee, Sayre, Pa., Orrville, Ohio, Dennison, Texas, while at Roodhouse, Ill., Bert Dickson, a roundhouse foreman for the Chicago and Alton, said to be a nephew of W. G. Bierd, president of the road, was tarred and feathered by a masked band.

ABDUCT WORKERS.

Two car repairers were reported to have been abducted at Marion, Ohio, and at Pana, Ill., car men left town under threats by strikers.

At Algiers, La., four negroes working in the shops of the Southern Pacific were fired upon by a crowd of whites, thirteen of whom were arrested for violating the federal injunction. The prisoners denied they were strikers

REMAIN QUIET.

Clinton, Ill., New Franklin and Salter, Mo., and Parsons, Kas., where troops were on duty, remained comparatively quiet following several hectic days

The situation at Bloomington, Ill., remained tense with troops holding the yards and shops. Frequent shootings and the general hostile attitude of strikers and large crowds of sympathizers kept national guardsmen in constant vigilance. Meanwhile city and county authorities were attempting to re-establish civil government.

TRAINMEN AGAINST GUARDS.

Engineers, firemen, trainmen and conductors announced that they would refuse to enter the Alton yards at Bloomington to take out trains as long as machine guns bristled in the shops. They voted to operate only mail trains, unless the trains were delivered to them outside the shop district during the encampment of the troops in the yards.

Shop crafts at Sayre, Pa., formed a "peace committee" with the announced intention of preventing disorders as far as possible

LEADERS SATISFIED

Shop crafts leaders expressed satisfaction over the success of the strike, while most of the roads were noncommital. The Santa Fe, Burlington and Missouri, Kansas and Texas announced that conditions were steadily improving on their lines Santa Fe shopmen were reported by the road to be returning to work in considerable numbers.

Forty-one moulders who joined the walk-out at Parsons, Kans., were reported back on their jobs.

DRIVE PICKETS AWAY.

Police at Boston drove pickets away from employment agencies, where men were being accepted for railroad work.

Rossville, Calif., officials were investigating the dynamiting of one of the largest water tanks on the Southern Pacific system by a party of unknown men, and an attack by strikers on an employe of the Pacific Express.

ONE SHOT—OTHERS BEATEN.

Dennison, Texas, July 12—One man is reported to have been shot seriously and several others severely beaten in railroad shopmen strike disorders here early today.

WARNING SUFFICIENT.

Pana, July 12.—When union sympathizers in this city learned that L. H "Humpy" Moore, Illinois Central car inspector, was repairing cars in the local yards, a committee of some seventy-five men called upon him with a warning that it would be far better for him to cease all work here and "get out" He took them at their word and left on the first train north on an I. C. train.

The railroad situation is one of tense calm in this city. The general atmosphere among the railroad men is 'let some one do something and—.'

When a rumor reached here that the Big Four had a special train with some six cars of repairers on it, accompanied by guards, making the trip between Hillsboro and Pana in order to repair the disabled cars and siding, some two hundred men assembled at the Union station. Up until a late hour Tuesday the train had not arrived, but the men were still waiting

CIVIL AUTHORITIES,

Bloomington, Ill., July 11—Re-establishment of civil government in Bloomington will be undertaken immediately by county and city authorities under a promise from the state that troops will be withdrawn as soon as Sheriff Morrison has recruited enough deputies to handle the situation,

Col A. L Culbertson, commanding the five companies of national guardsmen on duty at the Chicago and Alton shops, conferred with the sheriff and Mayor Edward E. Jones tonight and they agreed to make an effort to re-establish their authority.

ONE KILLED—ONE WOUNDED.

Crewe, Va., July 12—Russell Wiggins, a Norfolk and Western yard office clerk, was killed and an unidentified man was wounded when some one shot into a crowd of picketing clerks at the station here last night.

ISSUE RESTRAINING ORDER AGAINST P. AND P. U. STRIKERS

[By The Associated Press.]

Springfield, July 12. — Federal Judge Fitzhenry announced here this morning that he had issued an injunction at Bloomington last night restraining 2.0 striking employes of the Peoria and Pekin Union railroad from interferring in any way with the railroad's operation

Five hundred copies of the injunction are being prepared this morning and will be taken to Peoria for service as soon as completed

The P. and P. U. railroa does all the switching for six lines entering Peoria

MAN SHOT, U. S. DEPUTIES BEATEN IN TEXAS SHOPS

Dallas, Texas, July 12—One man was seriously shot and a dozen others, some of them deputy United States marshals on guard at the Missouri, Kansas and Texas shops at Denison, were kidnapped, taken to the woods and beaten by a mob of 1,000 at Denison early today, according to reports to the Katy general office here. J. W. Pike was the man shot.

WILL OPERATE C. AND A. TRAINS

Four Big Brotherhoods Agree to Terms At Bloomington.

[By the Associated Press]

Bloomington, July 12—Members of the four big brotherhoods, engineers, firemen, trainmen and conductors, who yesterday voted not to handle trains out of the Chicago and Alton yards here as long as troops are on duty there, today rescinded their action.

CULBERTSON'S PLAN

The brotherhoods accepted the plan proposed by Colonel A. L. Culbertson, commanding the 130th infantry, whereby certain entrances and exits will be designated for train crews, with special guards on duty to honor their passes,

As a result freight traffic will be resumed on the Alton this afternoon. All passenger trains operated last night and today, although some were considerably delayed while crews were being sought. Few members of the train crews refused to work, but many were absent from home when the call boys sought them.

HUNTING DEPUTIES.

Sheriff "Jake" Morrison, who is endeavoring to reorganize his deputies and take over the task of guarding the shops, said today that it might be several days before he could get sufficient men together to make a start,

GRADUAL WITHDRAWAL

Colonel Culbertson, after a conference with the sheriff last night, said the troops would be withdrawn, a few at a time, when the sheriff shows he is able to handle the situation,

Last night passed quietly with only two or three shots fired. All were accidental discharges by nervous sentinels

[By the Associated Press]

It is understood, the message adds that the Free State authorities have no intention of interfering with his movements.

SEVEN CLINTON SHOPMEN BACK

Return to Work Wednesday and Greeted Warmly By R. R. Officials.

Clinton, July 12—Indications that at least some of the striking Illinois Central shopmen are heeding the ultimatum issued Monday by officials of the road, were seen Wednesday forenoon in the action of seven or eight shopmen who returned to work.

The men did not return in a group, but presented themselves at the shops singly and were greeted there by officials who expressed themselves as glad that the men were returning. The older men among the strikers were heard to express themselves on the streets Tuesday night as desiring to resume their work, and the action of the seven or eight followed Wednesday forenoon.

There is no general break in the ranks of the strikers indicated, however, and it maybe that as at some other points, these older men have been granted permission by their brotherhood to return to work in order to protect their pensions. Their action has provoked no hostile demonstration on the part of the other strikers.

GERMANY ASKING ONE YEAR'S TIME

Moratorium Is Reduced—Want Further Aid.

[By the Associated Press]

Paris, July 12.—The German representatives today submitted to the reparations commission a formal note requesting a moratorium on reparations payments for the remainder of the present year. The note stated that the 32,000,000 gold marks due on Saturday were available if the commission insisted on this payment, but recommended that it also be waived.

DUE SATURDAY.

Germany will pay 32,000,000 of the 50,000,000 gold marks due to the Allies next Saturday, the reparations commission decided Tuesday evening. Germany has been relieved of the balance of this payment through deliveries of dyes to the textile alliance and through deliveries of coal to Luxembourg

SEE COLLAPSE AT THE HAGUE

Disagreement Over Property Rights Brings Open Break at Parley.

[By The Associated Press]

The Hague, July 12.—The morning session of the conference on Russian affairs which was devoted to the consideration of the private property question broke up amid considerable confusion, many of the delegates declaring the Russian replies meant that the collapse of The Hague conference was inevitable. No decision as to this, however, had been taken up to three o'clock this afternoon

NO MORE SESSIONS.

Maxim Litvinoff of the Russian delegation, said on leaving the conference chamber that further meetings were unlikely as the non-Russians insisted on the Russians making promises with regard to property compensation and giving guarantees which were impossible until the Russians knew what credit and loans would be granted.

M. Litvinoff added that the peace pact would hold for one month after the last meeting.

NEW RAILROAD BANK FOR MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, Minn., July 12.—Minneapolis will be the home of the fifth railroad brotherhood bank in the United States, when the Transportation National Bank is opened here Sept. 1.

OFFER REWARD FOR MURDERERS

Brundage Posts $1,000 to Bring Herrin Case to Justice.

Chicago, July 12.—Attorney-General Edward J. Brundage today offered a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the persons who committed murder and assault in connection with the strike of the coal miners in Williamson county.

PROTECT INFORMANT.

The appeal was particularly directed to the citizens of Williamson county who the attorney-general said would be protected in every way for any assistance they may give.

"Citizens of Williamson county have a duty to the state and a personal duty to perform" the attorney general said.

"MUST DISCLOSE FACTS."

"Communications will be deemed confidential and all who offer assistance will be protected by the state in every way. All persons who know the facts are required by the law to disclose them. An opportunity is now given to these who are willing to perform their duty, and who all fail to make disclosures of their knowledge before August 1 1922. will upon discovery be prosecuted as accessories after the fact.

ALSO GUILTY.

"Every citizen who knows the fact that a crime has been committed and conceals it from a magistrate or who harbors, conceals, maintains or assists, any principal felon or any accessory before the fact, knowing him to be such, is an accessory after the fact and can be punished as such"

DEMAND JUSTICE.

Chicago, July 12—Urging the punishment of the slayers of the non-union miners at Herrin, Ill., the Illinois Manufacturers' association Tuesday night sent a statement to its members declaring that "justice cries for action by the authorities."

LIFE UNSAFE.

Life and property and the right to work are unsafe in "Williamson county, Illinois, as evidenced by the massacre of nineteen defenseless men at Herrin by a mob of unionized mine workers," the statement said.

FLOOD MENACE TO MISSOURI TOWNS

Predicts Record Stage Will Be Reached.

Chillicothe, Mo., July 12.—Farm lands in Mercer, Grundy, Livingston, Daviess, Gentry and Nodaway counties are under water today, and both forks of the Grand river which unite near here are rising rapidly. The United States weather bureau here predicts a thirty foot stage of the river by tomorrow, the highest ever known here.

The forecaster said a thirty foot stage would mean the river would be ten miles wide here. Water was two feet deep in the main street of Pattonsburg, Mo., today.

BLOOMINGTON QUITS COMMISSION FORM

Light Vote Favors Return to Aldermanic Form.

Bloomington, Ill., July 12—The commission form of government adopted by the city of Bloomington eight years ago, was voted down yesterday the plurality in favor of the aldermanic form being 697. About 5,000 votes in all were cast.

This figure represents an unusually light vote, more than half of the registered voters failing to take a part in the election.

RESULT OF STRIKE

It is also believed that the calling in of the state militia in connection with the railroad situation here had something to do with the defeat of the commission form

KIDNAP IOWA RAIL CHIEF

Hold Four Strikers Under $2,000 Bonds Furnished By Union.

[By The Associated Press]

Fort Madison, Ia., July 12.—C. L. Mason, division superintendent of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad who has been in Fort Madison in connection with the strike of shopmen, was kidnapped by four men yesterday afternoon and thrown from an automobile in an isolated spot seven miles from Danville, Ia., 35 miles northwest of here last night.

His abductors were arrested this morning on charges of kidnapping and were released under bonds of $2,000 each, provided by E. A. Hamilton, president of the federated shop crafts union. All the men are striking shopmen.

WOULD MODIFY HARDING'S PLAN

Mine Workers Will Seek Conference to Change Proposal.

Washington, July 12—Officials of the United Mine Workers of America, after a conference today with Secretary of Labor Davis, were understood to have decided to seek a conference with President Harding at which request will be made that the executive modify his coal strike settlement plan to guarantee that any decision made by the proposed arbitration commission shall be binding on all operators in the country.

DELAY PEACE PLANS.

Washington, July 12—High government officials declared today that in their opinion both United Mine workers officials and spokesmen for the bituminous operators were delaying and evading action on President Harding's plan for arbitration of the coal strike in an effort to ascertain whether public opinion will permit a rejection of a settlement proposal

Only the force of public opinion is at present available to back up the president's offer and administration advisors are inclined to believe that public pressure is necessary to secure action.

DANVILLE FACING RAIL TRAFFIC CUT

Coal Shortage Serious with C. and E. I.

Danville, July 12.—The Chicago division of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad has less than ten days' supply of coal on hand and may have to curtail its passenger service within the next few days, it was announced here today. The road is obtaining coal from the non-union fields in the South, but has not been able to be supplied on account of the strike of shopmen.

Shows Some Reasons Why Our Taxes Stagger

Washington, July 12—Shoe strings, a biting dog, and a human skeleton were used as texts for an economy sermon yesterday by Director of the Budget Lord in his address before the third semi-annual business meeting of the government which last January saw General Charles G. Dawes of Chicago the first budget director, wave aloft a brace of navy brooms as he stamped the floor to emphasize his demands for federal thrift.

A shipment of hospital supplies was made, General Lord said, which contained one human skeleton as well as laundry bags, instrument tables and other articles, but because of failure to classify properly the shipment "the rate of the skeleton, which was three times first class rate, was applied to the entire lot, which was shipped at a minimum of 20,000 pounds.

Describing the workings of the budget bureau he declared that while formerly an expenditure for a pair of shoe strings out of the wrong appropriation could not have been made without the error being detected, unwise disbursements of millions out of authorized appropriations could have gone undisturbed before the inauguration of the budget system.

"Peace and Order Will Be Preserved"--Sterling

Will Employ Full Powers at His Command—Considers Clinton and Bloomington Situations Alone Alarming.

Rockford, Ill., July 12—Replying to an inquiry from a New York newspaper for a statement as to the program for keeping trains in operation in Illinois and seconding the efforts of the United States government in this direction, Acting Governor Fred E. Sterling sent the following message:

HIS PLAIN DUTY.

"My plain and bounded duty, under my oath and the law of Illinois as I conceive it, is to employ such force as may be at my command to preserve peace and order, and prevent violence and protect life and property, wherever the same may be endangered in this commonwealth.

"State troops for these purposes have been ordered by me only to two places, viz. Clinton and Bloomington, in both of which places I am convinced by careful investigation by my personal representatives and from repeated appeals for assistance from the sheriffs and mayors, all civil authority has broken down and is unable to cope with threatening situations

SPEED NECESSARY.

Imminent danger to life and property made my duty clear in the mater and I acted with promptness because I believe it is always better to lock the stable before the horse is stolen. In ordering troops for precautionary purposes I have not taken into consideration either the merits or demerits of the strike of the railroad shopmen, a controversy in which I am in no manner involved.

As I view the matter it is the duty of the authorities of Illinios to see to it that there is no public disorder in this state. It is up to the federal government to prevent interference with the transportation of United States mails.

"Fred E. Sterling, acting governor."

No Additional Troops Scheduled For Clinton

Adjutant General Black Denies Rumor of Three More Companies On Way—Radio Is Installed.

Clinton, July 12—Reports that three new companies of troops have been ordered to Clinton and that they would arrive sometime during Wednesday or Wednesday night, were declared today by Adjutant General Black at Springfield to be incorrect. So far as known, there is no reason to suspect that the presence of additional troops will be required, and the three companies, Decatur, Paxton and Champaign, have the situation well in hand.

QUIET NOW.

Up to the present there is no further disturbance to report Apparently the strikers had decided to obey the letter of the federal injunctions that were issued, copies of which have been served on them. Deputy United States Marshal Murry of Springfield visited Clinton Tuesday and served copies of the injunctions on each individual striker. There were three writs, restraining the strikers from picketing, interference with the operation of trains intimidation of employes or any conspiracy to tie up transportation.

SHOPMEN HOLD MEETING

Four hundred and fifty striking shopmen attended a meeting in the Moose hall Tuesday afternoon. They were addressed by J. M Patterson of Bloomington, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, and a former resident of Clinton. Mr Patterson's address was conservative, and he gave the men many helpful suggestions to aid them in the present crisis

RADIO INSTALLED.

That the shop zone may not find itself isolated from the outside world by destroyed telephone and telegraph wires a radio outfit has been installed and will be in working order by Wednesday evening. It is in charge of Pearl Jones of Headquarters company of Decatur.

The radio will preserve communication between the shops and the "outside" in case the strikers resort to the customary annoyance of destroying wires.

NO ENCAMPMENT FOR MEN.

From present appearances there will be no annual encampment for the soldiers this year. They were to have gone to encampment at Rockford July 23, but their strike duty will prevent this. However, the boys are preserving their equanimity easily over this situation, as their present employment nets them considerably more pay than they would receive at encampment.

SUPERINTENDENTS HERE.

General Superintendent of Machinery Robert W. Bell of the Illinois Central system spent Tuesday in Clinton, coming in on the Diamond and leaving on No. 502 for Chicago During the day several conferences were held with local officers of the company who were, however, disinclined to discuss the object of Mr Bell's visit to Clinton but it seems to be the consensus of opinion that plans were being formulated for the importation of outside labor for the local shops.

General Superintendent George E Patterson of Chicago also came in on No. 102 Tuesday night and remained Wednesday He is a former resident of Clinton, having been superintendent here for several years.

EXHORTS MEN TO ORDER.

The funeral of the little Fitzgerald lad, whose young life was sacrificed needlessly in the clash between labor and capital, was one of the largest ever held in this community. Father Moore, in delivering the sermon cautioned his audience to adhere to the right and to follow the advice of their leaders and prayed God to enlighten both man and leader. "Do not resort to violence, one wrong is never righted by another," said Father Moore in his impressive manner, and his address will do much to quiet and calm the situation.

SEEKS NORMALCY.

Springfield, July 12—Denying that three more companies of troops had been ordered to Clinton, where three companies are already on strike duty, Adjutant-General Black declared this afternoon that on the contrary, he had instructed officers in charge of the guard at Clinton and Bloomington to do all possible to restore civil authorities to full power, so that troops may be withdrawn.

WHEAT THREshING DELAYED BY RAIN

But Showers in Douglas County Welcomed.

Tuscola, July 12.—Tuscola and vicinity were visited Monday night and early Tuesday morning by some fine showers of rain that were very welcome. The corn fields and especially the gardens were beginning to show the need of rain, and while the rain of Monday night was not sufficient to soak the ground, the surface is nicely dampened.

Wheat threshing is slightly delayed by the rain but it is said the grain will thresh out so much better when it dries again after having the rain on it, that it will be a great help. There was considerable lightning and thunder accompanied the rains, but no damage has been reported.

AT CHAUTAUQUA.

A fair sized crowd attended the Chautauqua on Monday night, though the weather conditions were bad. It was very threatening at the time for people to go to the tent and during a part of the program there was a heavy downpour that made it impossible to hear what was said from the platform.

The attractions for the evening were the Crawford Adams Co., in music and readings, followed by J. Smith Damron, the "Potter Craftsman," in his lecture, "The Potter and the Clay." It was during the lecture of Mr. Damron that the heavy rain came and during the time he could not be heard he continued his work at his wheel without talking.

NO LEAKS.

The big tent showed no leaks except that water came through to some extent at the seams where the different sections were laced together. The lecture was very interesting and the man made many striking illustrations of his work in the modeling of the clay, to the human life and character.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR.

On Tuesday afternoon the talent was the Mercer Concert company, with Dr. John R. Gray, founder of the workingman's Church in New York, in his lecture, "The Man of the Hour." Dr. Gray at one time arrayed himself as a hobo and lived for three months among the hoboes of New York, to get experience. His verdict is that the great majority of that species are hoboes as a matter of choice and should be forcibly put to work.

On Tuesday night the Mercer Concert company and "Manlove, the Man of Many Faces," in character delineations, drew a good crowd.

MANY TOURISTS.

A good many parties of tourists were seen passing through here on Tuesday following the rain. All of them had chains on their wheels and were more or less muddy, but no serious trouble was reported as he-in encountered by travelers. The mud was not deep and the roads dried rapidly Tuesday afternoon.

RECALLS FAMOUS LINCOLN DEFENSE

Springfield, Ill.—The visit here of John R. Armstrong of Oakford, Ill., recalls to the minds of the older residents the famous case in which Abraham Lincoln cleared "Duff" Armstrong of a charge of murder by the "moonlight" argument.

"Duff Armstrong was a brother of John R. Armstrong. At his trial for murder a witness testified he had seen "Duff" Armstrong near the scene of the crime on the night of the murder. His identification was made possible, he said, because it was a moonlight night. Lincoln proved by an almanac that the moon was not shining on the night in question.

A LUCKY TRIP TO ILLINOIS

Winchester, Ky.

Natski Medicine Co.,
Moweaqua, Illinois.

My dear Sirs:

One year ago I had a severe attack of Lumbago. From there rheumatism spread all over my body until I could not turn my head or raise my hands to my head. Was under physician's care for nine or ten months. The relief seemed to be only temporary, for when I would go without medicine for a day or two, would get back into the same old channel.

Last January I went to visit friends in your town. They persuaded me to give your medicine a trial. Before taking one bottle I could see some improvement. I continued to take it until I had taken five bottles. Now I never have a rheumatic pain, except in very inclement weather, and then only slight twinges.

Respectfully,

MRS. ROSA RAGLAND.

SCARAMOUCHE

© by Rafael Sabatini

Andre-Louis observed the ashen pallor that now overspread the face of his opponent

"I think you begin to realize, monsieur, what Philippe de Vilmorin must have felt that day at Gavrillac I desire that you should first do so Since that is accomplished, why here's to make an end'

He went in with lightning rapidity For a moment his point seemed to La Tour d'Azyr to be everywhere at once, and then from a low engagement in sixte Andre-Louis stretched forward with swift and vigorous ease to lunge in tierce He drove his point to transfix his opponent whom a series of calculated disengages uncovered in that line But to his amazement and chagrin La Tour d'Azyr parried the storke, infinitely more to his chagrin La Tour parried it just too late Had he completely parried it all would yet have been well But striking the blade in the last fraction of a second, the Marquis deflected the point from the line of his body, yet not so completely but that a couple of feet of that hard-driven steel tore through the muscles of his sword-arm.

To the seconds none of these details had been visible All that they had seen had been a swift whirl of flashing blades, and then Andre-Louis stretched almost to the ground in an upward lunge that had pierced the Marquis' right arm just below the shoulder

The sword fell from the suddenly relaxed grip of La Tour d'Azyr's fingers, which had been rendered powerless and he stood now disarmed his lip in his teeth, his face white his chest heaving, before his opponent who had at once recovered With the blood-tinged tip of his sword resting on the ground, Andre-Louis surveyed him grimly, as we survey the prey that through our own clumsiness has escaped us at the last moment

In the Assembly and in the newspapers this might be hailed as another victory for the Paladin of the Third Estate only himself could know the extent and the bitterness of the failure

Andre-Louis at last roused himself, sighed and turned away to resume his garments and left the ground at once

As with Le Chapelier, he was walking slowly and in silent dejection toward the entrance of the Bois, where they had left their carriage, they were passed by the caleche conveying La Tour d'Azyr and his second

And thus it was that he was the first to return and seeing him thus returning apparently safe and sound, the two ladies, intent upon preventing the encounter, should have assumed that their worst fears were realized

Mme de Plougastel attempted to call out but her voice refused its office She attempted to throw open the door of her own carriage but her fingers fumbled clumsily and ineffectively with the handle

She found her voice at last, and at the same moment signaled to the driver of the caleche to stop

ALL THAT THEY HAD SEEN HAD BEEN A SWIFT WHIRL OF FLASHING BLADES

"Mademoiselle de Kercadiou is with me. The poor child has fainted"

Moved by a deep solicitude for Mademoiselle de Kercadiou, de La Tour d'Azyr sprang up despite his wound.

And thus it happened that when a few moments later that approaching cabriolet overtook and passed the halted vehicles, Andre-Louis beheld a very touching scene Standing up to obtain a better view, he saw Aline in a half-swooning-condition—she was beginning to revive by now—seated in the doorway of the carriage, supported by Mme de Plougastel In an attitude of deepest concern M de La Tour d'Azyr, his wound notwithstanding, was bending over the girl, whilst behind him stood M d'Ormesson and the madame's footman

"My God!" he cried aloud. "What must she have suffered, then, if I had killed him as I intended!'

If only she had used candor with him, she could so easily have won his consent to the thing she asked If only she had told him what now he saw, that she loved M de La Tour d'Azyr

MDE LA TOUR D'AZYR was seen no more in the Manege—or indeed in Paris at all.

The rumor ran that he had emigrated But that was only half the truth The whole of it was that he had joined that group of noble travelers who came and went between the Tuileries and the headquarters of the emigres at Coblenz

As for Andre-Louis his godfather's house saw him no more, as a result of his conviction that M de Kercadiou would not relent from his resolve never to receive him again

He threw himself into his duties at the Assembly with such zeal and effect that when the Constituent was dissolved in September of the following year, membership of the Legislative, whose election followed immediately, was thrust upon him

Of the counter-revolutionary troubles, none were more acute than those of Brittany, and, in view of the influence it was hoped he would wield in his native province, it was proposed to Andre-Louis by the Commission of Twelve, in the early days of the Girondin ministry, that he should go thither to combat the unrest

He accepted the task, and he was one of the five plenipotentiaries dispatched on the same errand in that spring of 1792 It kept him absent from Paris, for four months and might have kept him longer but that at the beginning of August he was recalled.

Mlle de Kercadiou, too, was in Paris in those days of early August, on a visit to her uncle's cousin and dearest friend, Mme. de Plougastel

In early August there arrived at the Hotel Plougastel a messenger from M de Kercadiou through whom he urgently bade mademoiselle join him at once, and advised her hostess to accompany her

M de Kercadiou was of those who make friends with men of all classes In Meudon he was known and esteemed of all the simple folk and it was Rougane, the friendly mayor who informed him on the 9th of August of the storm that was brewing for the morrow.

The friendly mayor carried his complaisance a step farther, and dispatched the letter to Paris by the hands of his own son, an intelligent lad of nineteen. It was late in the afternoon of that perfect August day when young Rougane presented himself at the Hotel Plougastel

Madame made up her mind at once M de Kercadiou's urgent message no more than confirmed her own fears and inclinations. She decided upon instant departure

It wanted, perhaps, a half-hour to sunset when they set out in her carriage with intent to leave Paris by the Porte Saint-Martin.

The carriage drew up at the barrier, checked there by a picket of the National Guard posted before the iron gates.

The sergeant in command strode to the door of the vehicle. The Countess put her head from the window.

"Your name, madame?" he had asked brusquely.

"Plougastel," he repeated after her, without title, as if it had been the name of a butcher or baker He took down a heavy volume from a shelf on his right, opened it and turned the pages It was a sort of directory of his section. "Comte de Plougastel, Hotel Plougastel, Rue du Paradis Is that it?'

"That is correct," she answered

There yas a long moment of silence, during which he studied certain penciled entries against the name

"The barriers are closed to all who cannot prove the most urgent and satisfactory reasons for wishing to pass You will wait, madame, until the restriction is removed"

Rougane's astonishment turned into dismay when they told him what had taken place

"A passport from without would do equally well" he announced 'I will go back to Meudon at once My father shall give me two permits—one for myself alone, and another for three persons—from Meudon to Paris and back to Meudon. I reenter Paris with my own permit which I then proceed to destroy, and we leave together, we three, on the strength of the other one, representing ourselves as having come from Meudon in the course of the day If I go at once, I shall be back tonight."

'But how will you leave?" asked Aline

"I? Pooh! My father is Mayor of Meudon There are plenty who know him They will pass me through It is quite simple"

His confidence uplifted them again. The thing seemed as easy as he represented it

"Then let your passport be for four, my friend," madame begged him "There is Jacques," she explained, indicating the footman who had just assisted them to light.

Rougane departed confident of soon returning, leaving them to await him with the same confidence. But the hours succeeded one another, the night closed in, bedtime came, and still there was no sight of his return

HEAT NO BAR TO LITTLE TOTS PLAY

Exercise Just As Hard As in Winter.

The hot weather does not bother the children at the Day Nursery They play just as hard as ever and would not stop to rest and cool off at all if the matron did not insist upon it

GIVE ENTERTAINMENTS

In the morning they are taught kindergarten games There is a supervisor at the nursery from nine until eleven who teaches them songs and dances One of the things that the children like best is to give entertainments One or two children are chosen to play for the rest of the little people The chosen ones give one of the dances that they have learned or play one of the games All the rest of the children sit quietly and make quite an admirable audience

During the hot weather the boys and girls do not do as much work with cards or cut-outs as they do in colder weather because they don t like to sit still for very long at a time

GOOD PLAYGROUND

At eleven they all go out in the yard and play until dinner is ready The have an excellent playground with slides and other playground apparatus

PLAN MEALS

Their meals are very carefully planned for the hot weather Instead of hamburger and mashed poratoes and gravy they have cold meat loaf or lettuce and meat sandwiches They are given fresh fruit and green vegetables almost every day

ENJOY RIDES

In the afternoon the younger ones sleep for an hour or so while the older ones play in the yard Occasionally some of the people of the town take them for automobile rides They went on three of these rides last week and the little tots seem to enjoy them more than any other part of the day

Such a little and unimportant thing as temperature does not seem to affect the children They play just as hard and at almost the same things in hot or cold weather Aside from the changes in the kind of food that they have and the slight changes in the kind of kindergarten work that they do their days are pretty similar

Drive Back Two Buicks from Chicago—Roads Are Excellent.

A J Glynn formerly with Emerson-Brandingham and also the International Harvester company has joined forces with Tenney & Company and is now selling Buicks He and Ralph Tenney were in Chicago last week in an effort to secure cars They were able to obtain two out like many other dealers in Iowa and Illinois were forced to drive them home without seat cushions and headlights

They report that the roads to Chicago are in excellent condition and that the best route is by way of Argenta, Cisco Monticello and Champaign, then on by way of the Egyptian Trail to Paxton, from Paxton east on the hard road to Hoopeston thence north on the Dixie Highway to Chicago They state that in Chicago it is best to detour on Ninety-fifth street to Ashland avenue, then on in to the city.

DOESN'T BELONG UP FRONT.

Sheriff Morrison of McLean county rushed to Springfield to file protest against some shooting done by soldiers at Bloomington The sheriff was thought to have something red in his eye, even if it wasn't blood.

He rushed in on General Black and shouted: "I want to see that Colonel Culbertson," the one supposed to be in control of troops at Bloomington.

"And Colonel Culbertson wants to see you!" was the prompt rejoinder of General Black.

By this the General doubtless meant it would be more appropriate for Sheriff Morrison to go away back and sit down until all the trouble blows over.

This is the sheriff who kept the wires hot a short time before, telling that civic authority had "collapsed" in McLean county and that soldiers must be rushed in at once to save the remnants.

General Black is reported as having said further to Sheriff Morrison: "The thing for you to do is to go out to the shops in Bloomington and clear those crowds away."

Yes, but Sheriff Morrison wasn't doing the thing that was there for him to do. For several days, according to reports, he had been taking quite another slant on life and its duties and opportunities And it may be that General Black understands all this

MAYBE WE MISSED IT.

A professor and his wife, both from Ohio, stopped at the Fairview park camp ground and told reporters something They had been on the road some time, and the only two uncomfortable nights they had were those spent in hotels. They found the camp ground much more to their liking, in fact praised it highly.

We are having a story something like this from most of the camping tourists who go through. It may be that those of us who never camped a night in our lives have missed a bigger thing than we suspect.

Some of us have spent nights in hotels that were not comfortable, and we have had other nights in hotels that were all right. We had about made up our minds that it all turns on the kind of hotel a wayfarer picks or draws.

But it may be we are entirely unacquainted with the biggest delight of all, camping out while away from the home radiator or electric fan All the campers unite in making this statement, and when the jury is unanimous and against us we are practically forced to conclude we have been missing something.

We do wish a hotel man would go on the road for a trip, camp along the way, and then tell us what he thinks.

MINERS MIGHT NOT OBJECT.

Some are wondering what the coal men are likely to do, operators as well as miners. President Harding urges that mines be opened at once, that wages remain the same as in the old scale pending the finding of arbitrators; and then an intimation that unless this is done the government will take charge.

Just what will be the outcome of this line of urgent suggestion it perhaps isn't easy to say. Say that the miners should refuse, while operators agree to the plan In this case there might be a taking over of the mines by the government, for the big thing, as the administration sees it, is to furnish coal to the country.

There is just a chance the miners would much prefer to have the government take over the industry. In fact one is pretty certain miners would prefer this, having so declared themselves in the past. If they are in position to force such taking over, even though it is temporary, they may look on this as a somewhat promising situation, considerably to their liking in fact.

SAVED ONCE MORE.

Monday night we had more than an inch of rain, quite general in all this part of the state Like rains prevailed a little earlier in the country to the north and northwest, where they were needed more than even here All this within a few days has made a big change in the crop outlook in all this section

Once again one is reminded that with us the weather man comes to the rescue before it is everlastingly too late. In these parts we never at the end of the year report general crop failure—and this is something that can't be said of all sections of the country.

We have had some pretty close calls on the corn crop, a few of them much closer than this season, but always before the end is reached the rains come and the day is saved We have had this experience for so many years that we have come to count on it.

We are in more danger from the chinch bug than from the weather man. But we should learn how to beat that bug, even though up to date we have made little headway.

TAKE IT ON PLAIN REPORT.

Some one connected with the railroad shop crafts in Decatur in speaking of the federal court injunction, says: "We accept notice by publication; it will not be necessary for officials to serve papers"

Of course officials will serve the papers, for that is the way the thing is always done But it is indication of the proper and wise spirit to declare in advance that notice is accepted.

The shop man is moved to remark that "the printed order is a complicated matter, very hard to interpret." It is just what he says. If you have any question about this, just turn to the printed notice, read four columns of it, and then tell what you make out of it.

But thanks to items turned in by reporters and observers, there is something approaching an understanding of just what the order means.

HAVE THEIR OWN DEAD LINES.

There is an interesting story from Chicago, one in which Syrians and Assyrians are cast for the leading parts. On Clark street in that city is an imaginary "dead line," north of which Syrians are not allowed to venture

One night this week several Syrians did venture over the line, and they quickly found it was not as imaginary as it should be for comfort. The Assyrians came down on the trespassers, and in less than a minute there was a bloody fight in which 200 people were trying to take part, Syrians and Assyrians.

Two Chicago policemen happened along and broke up the fight, after which they made a half dozen arrests The Syrians and Assyrians were at each other with knives, and you would hardly expect that two policemen could break up a fight after it reached that proportion. But they were brave policemen, and may-be the fighters had nearly enough by the time the officers came.

But think of Asiatics coming to this country and undertaking to run part of our second largest city to suit themselves, drawing a dead line and laying it down that some of them should not cross it under penalty of death. And it wasn't comic opera; they meant all they said.

Surely we have some strange situations in big cities in this country.

WHY TOLD EVERY YEAR.

This is the time of year when you may expect to be greeted by articles telling you how to proceed to keep cool. Please don't object to the regular annual appearance of these articles ;if they are to accomplish anything they must be published every time the hot season comes around.

The subject in general outline is not a difficult one, that is its presentation. Keeping cool on a real hot day may be something else. But the best one can do is to eat moderately and try to keep from getting excited, also to exercise some selection in the things that are eaten.

The story may be simple, and yet it needs to be told anew each year. Even at this there are many people who refuse to follow the plain and simple and comfortable directions. What would these do to themselves if they didn't have the help of these articles each hot season?

There are said to be people who pay no attention. This does not surprise us, neither should it discourage us in doing good works We should always have in mind the people who are willing to be helped, and if a fair number of these can be saved the world will go on and improve.

SHOWS THAT ARE PLAYED OUT.

An item from Shelbyville tells that carnival shows in that town are poorly patronized, though fair sized crowds were around to see what was doing. The explanation is that the shows were the same old thing, not at all interesting

They were good enough shows when first put on the pike, that is many years ago. By now they are old stuff, also weather beaten. It should not be expected the plain citizen will give up his money year after year to see the same poor stunt done over and over.

Gentlemen who manage carnival shows might keep this in mind. They can help their fortunes by throwing in a little variety.

Nearly every day we have a change in the "best route to Springfield," but there is no big and good reason why anybody should want to go that way

Plainly Judge Baldwin has a notion that some of the brethren are only fooling when they tell they know something about bottom land values.

To hear Attorney General Daugherty tell it, he is mighty strong for law and order, so we assume there will be something doing when he gets in motion.

When we get weather by radio what are we to do on the numerous occasions when static is in charge of the works?

However, we expect the dam will rise following that rain; if it doesn't, the next thing will be to look for the hole in the works.

Returns from Tuscola make it pretty plain that William Jennings Bryan remains easily the biggest card in the chautauqua deck.

And we rise for the purpose of remarking that the fall-down Pete Briliey had twenty years ago was the last one in his career.

When Chief Allen got back on the job he must have had a feeling the community didn't go to sleep while he was away.

Some of the big city reporters spell it "champaigne," from which we conclude Volstead must be making headway.

We are thankful for what we have had, and it was fine, but that standing order for rain is not withdrawn.

THE WAYS OF EASE.

Pleasure builds no lasting fame,
Youth, remember as you go,
Luxuries are sweet to claim
But they vanish with a blow.

Rest a little, as you must,
But beware the idler's fate;
Toil's a friend that you can trust,
Rest will never make you great.

Not along the easy ways
Pride and joy of conquest grow,
Leisure has no word of praise
Or a medal to bestow.

Youth, beware the easy place,
Shun the charm of leisure's lure,
Meet life's hardships face to face
For the glories which endure.

Soft of hand and dull of brain
They become who dwell at ease;
'Tis by toiling, might and main,
Man must earn his victories.

ABOUT TOWN

He leaned over the counter in the county clerk's office the other day as the newspaper man was looking over the marriage license record to see what Cupid had brought in that day and in reply to the courteous question of "Smiley" McEvoy, county clerk, as to whether he could do anything for him the stranger said:

"Oh, no, I just want to see this man."

As the newsman finished copying the license which had been issued that day the stranger sidled along the counter and confidentially said:

"Say, I want to see you a minute. I'm going to get a marriage license soon and I want it kept out of the papers for two or three weeks."

The newsman sidestepped the request and later heard the stranger ask Mr. McEvoy if he could get a license just after the office closed—even a minute after.

The genial county clerk admitted that he might do that and when the time came for issuance of the license the usual questions were put and answered satisfactorily until the question:

"Have you been divorced?" was "Yes," replied the applicant for a license.

"When?" asked the clerk.

"April," replied the stranger.

"1922?" asked Smiley.

"Yes," said the stranger.

"Have to wait a year," replied the county clerk and the romance fell with that well known, dull, sickening thud.

There is a little fellow living in the west end of town who has them all guessing. He isn't bad. He's just himself, does things as he sees them and he certainly has his dad and others sidestepping at a quite lively pace occasionally.

Recently this youngster decided that he would not go home at noon for his mid-day meal. He went over into Fairview park and spent the noon hour. Then he stepped on a street car and rode about indefinitely, back and forth. When he tired of that he went to a moving picture theater, spending the afternoon in that way—but he did not spend anything else.

He did not have a cent to start with but that seemed not to bother him at all Why use money when one can get along without it? Recently he decided that his hair needed cutting so he strolled into a barber shop, had his hair cut, bought a package of chewing gum, calmly took the ticket to the cashier and then walked out without saying a word

"That little boy didn't pay for his haircut," said the cashier after the little fellow had gone out.

"Never mind, I know his dad," said the barber, and so the young man went on his way solving the hitherto unsolved problem of how to live without money.

"Hurry Up There" called a clear voice from the street Friday afternoon when the Past Noble Grand club of Progress Rebekah lodge was holding an election in the Odd Fellows Hall, 143 North Main street. It happened at just the moment when there was a drag in the meeting and caused a ripple of laughter from the women While the person below was speaking to some one on the street, it seemed to just fit in the situation.

Your Health

SLEEP TIME WORK

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

Sleep is one of those mysterious processes of nature about which science knows but little.

You cannot say that consciousness necessarily disappears during sleep, for the brain does not stop working then. In fact, it often becomes extremely active during sleep, solving difficult mathematical problems or composing poems. And in a less active condition there are dreams.

Nor does the body sleep in that condition which we call sleep. It keeps working incessantly. Its activity is merely reduced to a lower level. The heart beats slower, the blood pressure decreases, breathing is slower and irregular, the muscles are relaxed, the blood supply to the brain is diminished. But still the body is working

A common misconception is that during waking hours we tear down and during sleeping hours we build up the body. As a matter of fact, we are tearing down both day and night, and we are always building up. The work of destruction and the work of repair go on incessantly.

The difference is that we destroy faster during the day than we can build up. At night the activity of the body is less and the work of repair has a chance to get ahead.

During sleep, a great deal goes on in the mind. Science is beginning to find that it is not only a time for physical growth, but also, perhaps, a time for mental growth and character formation. Impressions gained during the day are worked over at this time, new resolutions which have been taken, become rooted and strengthened; new ideas are digested and given their place in the memory. It seems to be the time when the mind sorts over its experience and casts up accounts.

Every day science is making new discoveries in this direction and perhaps will soon throw some light on an everyday condition that is yet shrouded in mystery.

ROAD WORK IS STOPPED BY RAIN

Had Completed 3,258 Feet Monday Night.

Concrete work on the Macon county state bond contract was at a standstill Tuesday because of the rain Monday night but unless there is more rain the pouring of concrete will be resumed.

The concrete gang had completed 3,258 feet of Section 15 Monday night and is averaging right at 500 feet a day. The trucks now hauling from Niantic have a haul of two and a quarter and two and half miles and the concrete work will progress with increasing speed as the length of the haul decreases It will not be long, in estimation of the state engineer, till the mixer will be running at capacity, which will mean 800 feet a day He believes that the mixer should reach Niantic within two weeks, which will be near the end of July. This road as far as Niantic should be open by Sept 1, which will mean a hard road from Decatur to Niantic during the state fair.

OPEN SECTION 14 JULY 24.

Section 14 from Harristown cemetery west two miles will be opened on the 24th. This will be of advantage to people living on this road but of no especial advantage to the public at large except to persons who care to drive out to the end of the hard road and turn around and come back.

COUNTY MAY TAKE OVER WORK.

It is stated that Macon county may take over the fag end of the W. C. Meneely contract east of Illiopolis after the Macon county work has been completed. There was a mile and a half of the Meneely job that this firm was obliged to leave because there was some heavy grading to be done and a bridge to be built. The Meneely people would much prefer to sub-let that work than to move back and do it themselves. A county cannot under the law take state bond road contracts in another county, but it is believed to be quite within the law for the county to take over this bit of road.

Republicans Plan To Go Ahead and Pass Tariff

Leaders Show No Sign of Intention To Abandon Measure in Face of Strong Requests From Outside Sources.

By Mark Sullivan.

Washington, D. C, July 12 — The talk about Republican senators throwing the tariff overboard and deferring action until a later session of Congress, comes not from within congress, but from the country.

Within the Senate there is not, among the Republican leaders, any sign of an intention than to go ahead and pass the bill according to programme.

LITTLE CONSIDERATION.

It is true that suggestions of postponement from the country come from powerful sources and from individuals whose judgment has much weight with Republican leaders. Nevertheless, there is no sign that the suggestion is receiving serious consideration. It is probable that many Republican leaders are fairly bored with the tariff situation as it stands

If they had not a beginning now, they might well defer action on the tariff. But to do so under present circumstances, would involve serious loss of "face" on the part of the Republican Senators and leaders.

CONDITIONS NOT STABLE.

There could hardly be a more vivid picture of futility on the part of a Congress already suffering seriously from adverse judgment than to abandon an enterprise after spending so many months of work on it.

The argument of those throughout the country who advocate throwing the tariff overboard, rests on the familiar ground that world conditions are not yet sufficiently stable to make an intelligent tariff possible; that there is no condition in American business calling for a new tariff, but, on the contrary the country is in a state of increasing business activity. Nevertheless, the programme is to pass the present bill

NOT ON STATUTE BOOKS.

While the bill will be passed at this session, the best judgment is that it will not get on the statute books until very close to the November elections. The Lower House of Congress will not return to Washington until August 15. It is by no means probable that the Senate will have finished with the bill by that date.

Even in the very improbable event that the Senate will have finished by August 15, there remains the matter of conference between the Senate and the House to adjust differences.

MINIMUM FOUR WEEKS.

The lowest estimate of the time required for conference is four weeks. This would make September 15, the earliest possible for the passage of the bill. But persons familiar with the probabilities of delay inherent in the situation, will be inclined to add from four to six weeks to this date

All that is meant to be said here, is that there is no intention whatsoever on the part of the Republican leaders to postpone the tariff until later session of Congress.

WILL GO AHEAD.

The delays inherent in the case might possibly throw it over; but the crystallized intention of the Republican leaders to go ahead with it. The more optimistic of them think they may be able to pass it by October 1, but, as I have said, this hope may fall short of fulfilment.

Doubtless, a good many Republican leaders wish they were not in the present tariff mess; wish that they had not made a beginning, and deplore the zeal of those ardent high protectionists who are responsible for having hurried matters.

Ten Years Ago Today In Decatur

JULY 12, 1912.

MARCONI TRAVELS IN RADIO YACHT

BY PAUL F. GODLEY,
America's Foremost Radio Authority

After several busy weeks studying America's radio problems, Senator Guglielmo Marconi, father of radio, soon will be nearing home aboard his floating radio laboratory, the yacht "Elettra."

It is a veritable wonder ship.

In one of the largest cabins on the main deck there is mounted on table, wall and special panel, almost every conceivable kind of modern radio equipment. There are radio transmitters, radio receivers, high speed recorders, selective devices for the reduction of atmospheric interference, radio direction finders, amplifiers, special transmitters for broadcasting and highly sensitive measuring instruments which are essential for the analysis of modern radio problems.

These things and many more catch the eye as one stands in the room and glances around—awed and well-nigh bewildered.

Projecting into the skylight, stands a beautifully built loop or "frame" antenna. This serves as collector for the long wave signals which are recorded automatically on a special ticker device at speeds approaching 200 words a minute.

Underneath the tables are dynamos of various patterns, weight transformers, storage cells and all the appurtenances in the "prime mover" class.

Here it is that the great inventor and his assistants pass many interesting and enlightening hours. Here it is that Marconi, the originator of it all, surveys the development of the art.

During Marconi's eighty-fifth visit to the United States, he saw more and heard more of the development of radio than ever before in his life.

America's contributions particularly the more recent ones and the remarkable popularization of radio surprised him.

It was the finest tribute to his art that could be paid.

LIMPNESS FEATURE OF LATEST WRAPS

Paris, July 12.—Limpness characterizes the wraps seen on fashionable occasions They are very lovely, though they look as if the heat had taken all the backbone out of the fabric. This, however, is the correct way for wraps to look at the moment. They usually have straight collars, mere bands clasped in front by jeweled buckles Fringe is used on them in profusion, adding in some curious way to that limp look caused by the soft fabric and the lack of lining

TRIMMING ELABORATE.

Paris July 12.—With the straight line chemise gown still very much in vogue designers have been obliged to concentrate on trimmings to the end that each frock shall not be precisely like its fellow Gowns therefore show an amazing variety of decoration. The chief innovations along these lines are strips of colored leather, lacquered braid lacquered ribbon ebony girdles thickly gemmed silk or organdie flowers in lavish numbers, and embroideries of colored straw, closely plaited

ROYAL COLORS.

London July 12.—Black and silver, beige and sable navy blue and white are, for the instant, combinations of color which have a wide appeal This is because they were the colors worn by the royal visitors at a recent social event Many modified copies have been made of the queen's hat, which was black and silver brocade with a long biscuit shaded plume; of her gown which was beige lace over beige charmeuse, and of Princess Mary's costume, which included a fringed cloak of navy crepe marocain, sable stole and a wide navy hat faced with white

Paris Sends Across Tips On Fall Fashions

Even so early as midsummer the great gods of Parisian fashion are sending over advance models of autumn's styles to be made up in materials for summer and very early fall wear

Most of these are tailored frocks Side drapes are shown on some. High collars on others One dress is not able to disregard the present vogue of capes and has a loose skirt panel in back that folds up across one's shoulders as a cape

Fine French serge and twill are used.

VEAL DISHES

BY BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH
Cooking Authority for NEA Service and Columbia University.

Veal is a delicious meat, but many feel it is difficult of digestion. But if thoroughly cooked there is no danger.

Cut in pieces for serving, roll each piece in well-seasoned flour and cook in fat until brown, having about three tablespoons of fat in a frying pan

If the fat is all cut from the meat, and fried out, it is as good as butter. Of course any other fat, as bacon, lard, drippings or butter, may be used.

After the pieces of meat are a good brown remove and, using the fat remaining in pan, add an equal amount of flour, and one or two cups of water, salt and pepper When thickened add the pieces of veal, cover closely, and cook one hour over a slow fire.

Another good way is to bake the cutlet.

BAKED VEAL CUTLET WITH NEW ONIONS

One veal cutlet cut one inch thick
Two bunches young onions (scallions)
Two fresh tomatoes or one cup canned tomatoes
One teaspoon paprika
One teaspoon salt.
One cup water
Two tablespoons flour.
One teaspoon sugar.
One-eighth teaspoon pepper.
Two tablespoons fat

Roll the cutlet in the flour and fry in the fat until brown. Place the meat in a casserole or baking dish. Cover with the onions cut in thin slices, using two inches of the green stalks, the tomatoes, seasonings and water. Cover and cook slowly in a moderate oven two hours

If fresh tomatoes are used peel, and cut in small pieces This will serve five.

The donations at the Anna B Millikin Home for the last month were liberal, according to reports at the board meeting Tuesday. Ice cream was donated for the Fourth of July and last Sunday. There were a number of pieces of furniture, clothing, apples and candy Fireworks were furnished by friends also.

There now are thirty-seven children and six old women in the home Six children are away on vacations and two children have entered school in the last month. A report was given of the death of Mrs. Anna Schessler, who has been living at the home. It was reported that no definite action toward the remodeling project has been made. Other routine business was discussed.

The board has decided to have a picnic for those living in the home in August. The date will be decided upon later.

If You Are Well Bred

You do not ask a young man to call upon you after the casual first meeting unless you have discovered common interests and are very sure that he desires the privilege.

When a girl has extended an invitation, and the recipient has shown no inclination to accept, she cannot with propriety repeat it, even though she is desirous of furthering the acquaintance

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs S. A Hess and their daughter, 236 West Division street, will leave Wednesday evening for Homer where they will attend the funeral of Mr. Hess's sister-in-law, Mrs William Hess.

AFTER BABY WAS BORN
Many Mothers Left in Weakened Condition

Many, many letters similar to the following recommend the Vegetable Compound as a wonderful medicine for bringing the mother back to normal health and strength.

It is an excellent restorative, contains no harmful drugs and can be taken in safety by a nursing mother.

Thousands of mothers who have regained their strength by taking it are its best recommendation. Very likely you know some. Why not take it yourself?

"Will Gladly Answer Questions"

Olney, Ill.—"For over a year after my boy was born I was troubled with weakness of the female organs. Also my stomach would bloat up and I had heartburn, headache, backache, and simply could not do anything. I saw your 'ad.' in the papers and read what your Vegetable Compound did for others, so gave it a trial. After the first few doses I could tell a change. (Some might think this impossible, but it is true.) I took two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and felt so fine that I neglected to take any more for about a year. This last winter I had pains again so I have been taking it to relieve them. I tell everyone I hear complaining of female troubles that it is grand. If any woman asks me questions about the medicine I will gladly tell her what I know."—Mrs. CHARLES VAUGHN, Olney, Ill.

Baltimore, Md. — "I first used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for general weakness following the birth of my first child. Later on the advice of my mother I used it for a dull pain in the small of my back and for a bearing-down feeling. These pains had an effect on me to such an extent that very often I was unable to stand on my feet to do my housework, and at times I was compelled to lie down for short periods. I found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound very helpful and recommend it highly."—Mrs. LORETTA B. SIMONS, 645 S. Belnord Ave., Baltimore, Md.

"Cannot Thank You Enough"

Allentown, Pa.—"After my last baby was born I lost weight and was in a very run-down condition. After taking the second bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to gain strength and flesh. In the past four months I have done all my own housework and do an extra wash besides. I do not feel at all like I used to and I cannot thank you enough for my health. My friends ask me what I am doing and I recommend your medicine."—Mrs. WM. STECKEL, 241 Ellger St., Allentown, Pa.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Scamper Squirrel Has Greedyitis

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Madam," said Dr. Snuffles gravely, "your son is troubled with a disease called greedyitis"

One day Mrs Samantha Squirrel called at the office of Dr. Snuffles

"Morning, Mrs Squirrel," said that kindly fairy gentleman. Nancy, set a chair for Mrs Squirrel, please. Nick, stand her umbrella in the corner'

"You're all most kind," said Mrs. Squirrel. "And dear knows, I'm that worried a little kindness does me good"

"Worried," said Dr Snuffles putting on his glasses and looking her over "That's a sign of nervousness You need some boneset tea"

'Nervous'' exclaimed Mrs. Squirrel. "Yes, I'm nervous, but it's not I that's needing medicine. It's Scamper, my son. He's ailing dreadfully.

'He won't eat a single bite. I've tried him with everything from acorn soup to birch-bud pudding, but all he does is sniffle his nose and turn away."

"M, h'm'" said Dr. Sniffles, "A very serious case, indeed' I'll have to see the young gentleman."

"Oh, doctor!" cried Mrs. Squirrel. "Pray don't. He's so upset whenever I mention you he nearly has a fit. It makes him far worse"

"Well, then," said the fairy doctor kindly. "I'll have to give him absent treatment Don't worry any more. I'll cure him."

The next morning when Mrs. Squirrel was doing her marketing and the family was all away, Mr. Scamper Squirrel slid down the maple-tree where he lived, looked stealthily in all directions, and then over to the underground pantry where all the goodies were kept—choice hickorynuts dried chestnuts, and a lot of other things.

Then he proceeded to stuff out his sides.

Dr Snuffles, the fairyman, walked over and took him by the ear. Just then Mrs. Squirrel returned.

"Madam," said Dr Snuffles gravely, "your son is troubled with a disease called greedyitis. The best cure for it is not birch-buds but a birch rod!"

A WHISTLING MARMOT

BY PROF. M. J. ELROD

Chair of Biology, University of Montana.

The traveler in the high mountains of the west will be startled frequently, as he plods along the trail, by a loud and shrill call from the loose rock piles, sounding much like a short whistle of a boy when he whistles with two fingers in the mouth.

To determine the direction of the sound or its distance away is very difficult One stands with attentive ears and searching eyes for the object making the sudden call

The keen observer may see the whistling marmot on a projecting rock, perhaps in a conspicuous place, but in color and form the animal blends with the surroundings in a marvelously protective manner

Only as the animal moves from its exposed position may one be sure of its location and size. In alarm it may dash for protection under the great rock pile, which is its home.

The alpine marmots, extending from the mountains of Europe across Siberia and central Asia, through Alaska, British Columbia and the United States, have similar habits They are timid, inoffensive and harmless creatures living high up in the snowy regions where the summer is short and the winter long. Should they appreciate beautiful scenery theirs must be a pleasant and joyous life

Being true rodents they live on the roots and plants near their rocky home In summer they carry quantities of hay into a large round burrow beneath the rock pile, with which they line the sleeping place of the long winter Ten or a dozen animals packed closely together for warmth, sleep the deep sleep of hibernation until the following late spring

Illinois Central Railroad Company

Chicago, Illinois, July 10, 1922.

TO ALL ILLINOIS CENTRAL SYSTEM SHOPMEN:

On June 14th I addressed a communication to you in which I appealed to you to cast your vote against the proposed strike. Since that time the strike has been called by your leaders, and some of you have left your positions, while others have remained steadfast. I feel that the time has arrived when I should make clear to those of you who have left your position, as well as those of you who have remained, the position of the Illinois Central System with reference to this entire matter.

In my letter to you of June 14th I enumerated the three things which your leaders proposed to have you strike against: namely, (1) contracting of shop plants to outsiders, (2) the order of the United States Railroad Labor Board relating to rules and working conditions, and (3) the order of the United States Railroad Labor Board establishing rates of pay effective July 1.

The question of contracting shops to outsiders is not a part of the controversy so far as you and the management of the Illinois Central System are concerned, because this railway system has not contracted any of its shops to outsiders. The questions involved in the matter of rules and working conditions and the order establishing rates of pay effective July 1 are the only ones at issue. They are not questions between you and the Illinois Central System management. They were decided by the United States Railroad Labor Board and those of you who are out on strike are striking against lawful decisions of a branch of the United States Government.

It goes without saying that the public welfare cannot permit the revocation of a decision of a governmental agency under a threat of the use of force . No patriotic citizen would expect such a thing to be done, or would have it done. We believe that we have the best government in the world, but you will all agree with me that it would not long so remain if its institutions could be over-ridden and set aside in the manner sought by those who are contending against the lawful decisions of the United States Railroad Labor Board.

The management of the Illinois Central System believes that those of you who are out on strike have been misled. It bears no feeling of hostility toward those who left its service. To those who have remained loyal it acknowledges a debt of gratitude. It feels that it has a valuable asset in its old employes, and it is eager to hold them together. It believes that, if those of you who are out will calmly analyze the issues upon which you are striking, your better judgment will assert itself and you will return to your positions. I sincerely invite you to return. Moreover, I earnestly advise you to pursue that course.

Those who report for duty not later than 11:59 p. m. Monday, July 17, 1922, may do so with the resumption of full seniority and pension rights and will be treated as if their services had been continuous. Those returning after that time, if accepted, will rank as new employes.

I trust that those of you who are out will consider this matter seriously and that your action, whatever it may be, will turn out to be for your own best interests, as well as the best interests of your families and those dependent upon you for a living.

I ask those of you who are striking to bear in mind that you accepted the decisions of the United States Railroad Labor Board when they were favorable to you, and that the Illinois Central System accepted those decisions which were unfavorable to it. Let me also again remind you that since December, 1917, you have received three general increases in wages and that your hourly rates of wages in effect at present, as fixed by the United States Railroad Labor Board, are from 40 to 113 per cent higher than in 1917, as follows:

	July, 1922 Hourly Rates	1917 Hourly Rates	Increases Over 1917
Machinists, boilermakers and blacksmiths	70c	50c	40%
Helpers, various classes	47c	29½ to 32½c	45 to 59%
Coach carpenters	70c	40c	75%
Freight car carpenters	63c	35½c	77%
Car repairmen	63c	29½c	113%

Upon reflection, I believe that you will be broad-minded enough to accept the recent decisions of the United States Railroad Labor Board which you consider unfavorable. A long-drawn-out contest would mean losses and suffering, not only for you and your families, but also for the public. We should all recognize that the public interest always rises above the interests of the railroad or of its employes.

None of us is fortunate enough to have issues affecting his life always decided in his favor. The principle of "rule or ruin" invariably has led to disaster. It can have no other ending. The wisdom of the principles of "give and take" and "live and let live" have been fully demonstrated. Those are the principles upon which we desire to conduct this railway system for the benefit of the public, the employes and the owners.

The management of the Illinois Central System is under obligations to serve the public with uninterrupted transportation and under any conditions which may arise it must faithfully discharge that obligation.

I ask that you accept this letter in that same friendly spirit in which I address you, free from any feeling of hostility or censure for anything that has been said or done in regard to this unhappy affair.

C. H. MARKHAM,
President.

Red Conkwright Wins First For Evansville

Holds Commies at Bay While His Mates Stage One Inning Attack On Applegate.

BY HOWARD V. MILLARD.

Allen "Red" Conkwright showed the Commies another day of high class hurling Tuesday, in the first game of the series with Johnny Nee's Evansville club and as a result the peppery Evas took a tight 3 to 2 battle from the locals.

Red allowed but six scattered hits which was the same number the visitors secured off Abel Applegate but they bunched half of theirs in one frame, which with a sacrifice fly, gave them three run and the contest.

GOOD CONTROL.

On the other hand the Commies were only able to get two hits in one frame, the other four coming in separate innings. Red had his curve and fast ball just outside, inside, high or low. There wasn't any fat ones for the Commies to take picks on and he was master at all times In only one inning did the first man up see first base or Red and that came in the ninth when he walked Kotzelnick who was pinch hitting for Philpott

For the fan who leaves the park saying "IF" this had happened we would have won, there are several chances not to be overlooked.

NEE'S CATCH.

Three times the locals had an opportunity to put over a win or at least a tie contest. On two occasions Johnny Nee himself took care of the situation while on the other Grant the new third sacker secured from the Western League spilled the beans.

In the first instance after Cole's single back of third had scored Brausen and put Runser on third Odie Strain hit a Texas Leaguer to short left that looked like a sure bingle, Nee was back with the sound of the bat and made a nice catch of a ball Collins could not have fielded.

GRANT'S STOP.

The other big opportunity was in the fifth. With Brausen down on a called third strike Runser sent out his second hit of the game through the box. Cole hit to Nee and he had Runser at second but Hughes let the ball get away from him and then loafed on the play. Runser going to third. Strain hit a terrific smash straight at Grant and he managed to get Odie at first. Bourg sent out another mean wallop but Nee took care of it for the third out.

The Commies put up a fight in the ninth. Kotzelnick went in to hit for Philpott and walked. Lamb's attempted sacrifice went straight to Conkwright and he nailed Kotzelnick at second Sweeney was put on to run for Lamb and then Holzhauser hit into a double play ending the contest

COMMIES TAKE LEAD.

The O'Leary clan took a one run lead in the first frame the marker being purely a gift With Brausen down Runser singled through the box He stole second although Hughes might have retired him had he held on the ball. Cole went out Conkwright to Reichle and then the former Illinois star threw wild to third after losing his bearing in the mud.

Another run was produced in the third. With Lamb out of the way Applegate singled to right. Brausen forced him at second. Nee to Hughes. Runser walked. Cole hit back to third and Runser scored on the blow.

BAD BOUNCE HURTS.

Grant opened the fourth with a single to right Nee lined out to Cole and then Grant stole second. Ganzel hit to short center and Cole came in to take the ball before Grant had rounded third. It bounced bad for the Commie gardener and Grant scored under wraps. Collins ticketed a real smash between Philpott and Cole good for three and Ganzel strolled in with the tieing run.

Reichle was passed and when Applegate also got in the hole on Walter Doane, boss O'Leary ordered him passed. Lothes sent out a fly to Strain and Collins counted. Strain pegged to the plate and Doane was caught between second and third before Reichle could cross the counting station.

TRY SQUEEZE PLAY.

The first man up in each remaining frame got on first for the Evas with the exception of the fifth when Hughes hit a slow ball down the third base line for a double but Applegate managed to turn them back on each occasion.

In the ninth Lothes reached third on his single, Hughes sacrifice and a passed ball. Conkwright scratched a hit to Applegate that he couldn't make a play on and then Grant attempted a squeeze play with Lothes. The ball was played just right by Applegate and the Eva catcher was retired at the plate.

BAIT For BUGS

By H. V. MILLARD

It was certainly a pleasure to see Johnny Nee and his Evas walk through the gate at Staley Field Tuesday. The whole gang was over abundant with pepper and the ball game was just that kind. It hard for a club to play baseball against a lot of lifeless players but there wasn't any on the Eva team.

Abel Applegate pitched another brand of baseball that will win about eight out of ten in the Tri Optic circuit and still he went down to defeat. From a pitching angle Conkwright was the strongest but it would have taken but one little single to put the contest in the loss column for Red.

The Decatur fans saw quite a change in the Evas from their last appearance here. Collins was in left while Ganzel was moved to center Grant on third, Hughes on second and Reichle on first were all new faces Every pitcher to work in the remaining games will be a new one

What's the matter with some of these other clubs that are down in the cellar and need ball players. Johnny Nee went out and got practically a whole new club.

This fellow Barnes who drove out the four hits for Peoria Tuesday was with Johnney Nee for awhile being farmed out by an International League club. Bill Jackson took the opportunity to go out on a scouting trip to Chicago.

Bill has the happy faculty of picking up some Chicago semi-pro each season that turns into a bear. Ossie Bluege now with the Washington Americans was the last one Bill unearthed

Dick Reichle drew a pass and was hit Tuesday. Sorrells threw him out once and he fanned the other time. The pupil of George Huff and Carl Lundgren has been taking hold of the ball for the Evas quite regularly so don't be suprised if he combs several during the series.

Pat Hardgrove, the much looked for third sacker who has been going to join the Bloomers for many days, was due to report to Boss Sykes Wednesday. He will make the Bloomers a formidable aggregation for the final half of the season, although Franks has seemed to help considerable since taking charge of the far corner

Red Hughes, sports writer over in Danville, was so tickled when the Vets scored a run in one of the Rockford games that he fell off the scorers bench according to the Commercial News. Wonder what Red would do if they won a game from the Commies in Decatur

Mike Sexton witened the game from the stand Tuesday and was very much impressed with the play of both the Commies and the Evas Of course Mike has known Dan from the time he broke into baseball, so wasn't surprised to see the kind of team he has lined up to represent Decatur

Applegate had a rather bad day despite the fact the Evas only scored on him in one frame. Five bases on balls, a wild pitch, and two hit batsmen is away above Abel's brand of hurling.

Cotton Ware, all state basketball center from Atwood was in Decatur Tuesday along with E M Gilmore Cotton advises that Atwood has just organized a baseball team to play the rest of the season and they are looking for a game for Sunday. L C Harshbarger is manager of the club

Leo Johnson, former Millikin star and coach, is taking the coaching course at the University of Michigan this summer in preparation for his work at Bradley this coming school year.

WILL REGULATE COLLEGE SPORT

San Francisco, July 12—Presidents J. G. Hibben of Princeton University, A. L. Lowell of Harvard University and J. R. Angell of Yale University have been named a committee to remove objectionable features from college athletics, President Hibben announced here before departing for an Alaskan tour. The recruiting of athletes from distant points in order to strengthen the teams of certain institutions is to be attacked, President Hibben said. The shortening of the football season also is under consideration, he said.

RACING NOTES.

Grey Lag, owned by the Rancocas Stable, and Whiskaway, owned by Harry Payne Whitney, may meet Saturday, July 22, in a special race at a mile and an eighth at the Empire City track. James Butler, owner of the track, has offered a purse of $10,000, and the owners are willing. It will be a weight for age affair, Grey Lag carrying 126 and Whiskaway 114. Having defeated Morvich in the Kentucky Special and also in the Carlton Stake, Whitney asserts that his colt is the best in America, and the owner of Grey Lag disputes this assertion.

Dates for fall racing in Louisville, Latonia and Lexington have been announced by the Kentucky Racing Commission. There will be fifty-one days of racing, beginning August 30 and ending November 4. The dates assigned are. Louisville, August 30-September 9, Lexington, September 10-27, and Latonia, September 30-November 4.

Eastern turfmen begin to think that Cresta, a Whitney filly by Whisk Broom II., is the best of the 2-year-olds. Her brilliant race of Monday, in which she defeated the Rancocas filly, Suweep, strengthened this opinion, and she is conceded an excellent chance for the rich events for youngsters to be run at Saratoga. The Western contingent believes that Donges and Cherokee will get the money at Saratoga.

Fort Erie, having run the seven days alloted in Canada to a race meeting, closed yesterday, and today the only big race meeting will be the one at Empire City. The feature of the Empire card for this afternoon will be the Fleetwing Handicap. The Rancocas Stable will start Knobbie and Thundercap and the Whitney Stable has named Tryster and Calamity Jane Careful, with 112, seems to be the one most leniently treated by the handicapper.

Nearly $500,000 was paid out to owners of horses during the Latonia meeting that ended Saturday, the most successful meeting ever held in Kentucky. The leading stable among the winners was that of Harry Payne Whitney, $49 688, of which $42,550 was won by Whiskaway in the Kentucky Special.

Dates have not been asked for the Green River Jockey Club, Evansville, Ind., but a request for a short meeting in November may be made later. This track is under construction and may be ready the latter part of October. The plant is of especial interest to St. Louisans, as it is the only one near enough to this city to be visited without spending a night away from home.

Walter Hagen Leads Second Day Qualifiers at Skokie

British Open Champion Turns in Card of 141 Among Great Field of Entrants.

Skokie Country Club, Glencoe, Ill., July 12—Facing playing conditions which at times helped and at others hindered their work, more than 100 of the 325 entrants in the national open golf tournament Tuesday struggled through a 36 hole qualifying round which sent about three-fourths of the starters into the discard and produced golf which figuratively, was much like the weather—full of clouds one minute and sparkling with sunshine the next. Only 24 won their way into the finals.

DUNCAN'S CLOSE CALL.

Walter Hagen, of Detroit, American, who has held almost every professional title in the world, led the field with a score of 141. John Farrell, Quaker Ridge, N. Y., pro, had the low round with a 68. One fourth of the qualifiers were amateurs, with Eddie Held, 19 year old St. Louis wonder, low among the nonpros with 147 and eighth among all. It took a total of 152 to qualify. George Duncan, the famous English pro, blew up on his final nine and barely qualified There were the high spots of a day of golf thrills, some of which were produced in a driving rain and all of which were on a course so soaked that the putting greens were like sponges.

TOTAL NOW 51.

Twenty-seven qualified Monday, due to ties, making a total of 51 for the two days. The final group will go out Wednesday, the low 24 and ties getting into the finals Thursday and Friday.

Standing out in Tuesday's play above everything else, so far as an individual was concerned, was the work of Walter Hagen, whose one over par for 36 holes was a game which for a time threatened to get into the class of Jock Hutchison's 135 score of Monday. Collectively, the amateurs were the ones who really stood out, for the non-professional entrants in Tuesday's field produced golf which would have done credit to any equal number of pros.

JONES SHOWS TEMPER.

Bobby Jones did some great playing and but for indifferent work in the afternoon which angered him so that he frequently slammed his club onto the green, might have finished even nearer the top. Eddie Held's work was, of course, really wonderful, while Jesse Guildford shot golf of the type that brought him his title at St. Louis last year.

On the other hand, George Dunncan, famed the world over, blew up, and it was doubtful for some time whether he would get in.

Duncan, after a beautiful birdie three on the third hole through a twenty foot put, went to pieces on the fifth, taking seven when he putted all over the green.

After turning the first nine in 37 and the first 18 in 75, he began to lose his putting ability. His total of 151 pulled him under the wire, with a stroke to spare, however.

HAGEN'S GAME WAS STEADY.

Hagen's game was the steady type that recently won him the British open championship. Frequently he used a mashie on the green for long approaches putts and he said that he believed this saved him several strokes.

One of his best shots was on the 16th when he was in a puddle of water in a trap on his drive, but pitched to the green for a four. Hagen's game as a whole Tuesday was one where pars came easily and generally he was trying the hard shots for birdies.

Bobby Jones had much the same type of game in the morning round.

In the first afternoon round that temperament of his, which experts say helped keep him from winning titles when he was in his teens cropped out just a little.

Frequently he brought cheers with long wooden shots and well placed irons and at no time was his work really bad. He just wasn't quite keen, to quote the British players, in his first afternoon round.

HELD ON BORDER-LINE.

Eddie Held did not make any shots that were spectacular, but nearly everyone of his strokes was on the border of brilliancy. He placed long drives beautifully, sent mid-iron and mashies straight to the green and putted with precision.

Fred Wright also shot a steady game, as did John G. Anderson and Frank Godchaux, Jr., might have had a par score had he not found trouble with putting.

John Farrell's 68 was easily the low round of the day and his 76 in the morning put him in second position for the entire day. Accurate tee and fairway shots were the secret of his low card.

FOURTEEN UNDER 150.

Frank Sprogrell, the Memphis pro, and John Black, each shot par seventies in the first round, but each found putting too hard on the second round. Leo Diegel, who looked like the low qualifier for 27 holes, being only a stroke or two over par, failed to putt on the final nine and dropped back.

Of the twenty-four men to qualify fourteen had scores under 150.

The weather man has promised to keep the faucets turned off for the rest of the tournament, and, if he keeps his promise, the course will be in absolutely perfect condition.

THOSE REMAINING.

Among the well known golfers to compete Wednesday are Willie Hunter, former British amateur champion; Harrison R. Johnston, of St. Paul, amateur champion of Minnesota; Alec Armour, Scottish amateur champion, Emmett French, of Youngstown, O., captain of the American team which went to England last year; Pat O'Hara, of Richmond county, Virginia, and Fred McLeod, of Washington, D. C.

WEDNESDAY PLAY OFF.

[By The Associated Press.]

Glencoe, Ill., July 12. Wednesday's qualifying rounds in the national open golf tournament was postponed until Thursday when it was found to be impossible to play over the course which has been flooded by a heavy rain which showed no signs of letting up at 10 a. m.

The course was a collection of small ponds and the traps were full of water, many of the greens virtually were under water and the fairways were flooded. The entire course really was "casual water" and there was no dry place to putt a ball after lifting it from the many little ponds.

The finals will be played on Friday and Saturday. Saturday had been held open for a possible play-off of a tie and if there is a tie it will have to be decided on Sunday or Monday.

BOXING NEWS

BY FAIR PLAY.

New York, July 12—If Joe Lynch takes care of himself in the next year or so there seems to be no good reason why he should not hold his regained bantamweight title. He is a clever boy and can hit hard enough to muss opponents up if not knock them cold with one punch. For a few weeks Lynch will appear in vaudeville, in the vicinity of New York with the idea of getting back at least a part of the ten thousand dollars he had to pay out of his own pocket to Johnny Buff

According to the agreement between the two if Buff lost the title Lynch, who had contracted to receive fifty per cent of the net receipts must pay Buff thirty thousand dollars. As it turned out, Lynch's share of the net receipts amounted to some ten thousand dollars less than the sum he had agreed to pay Johnny. So he had to make good out of his own pocket.

The bantamweight class are more popular in New York and New Jersey than elsewhere in the country and as a consequence fighters who are looking for the title will probably find to their interest to do battle in this vicinity. The string of eligibles does not look as formidable as it did a year or so ago. Burman, Midget Smith and McHugh are the likeliest contenders with Mike Dundee expected to crash into the forward ranks of contenders.

The managers of Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills have signed an agreement for a contest in which one or both of their meal tickets will be serverly punched But as the only stipulation as to time or place is that the contest shall take place within sixty days of the acceptance of the successful bid for the battle, ample opportunity will be given for Harry and Jack to pile up a lot of easy money before they meet if they ever do

MR. MILBY ASKS FOR JURY TRIAL

Crowd Fills J. P. Room As Trespass Case Goes to Trial.

More than fifty men, women and children filled the court room of Justice Harry C. Noble and overflowed into the corridors about it Tuesday afternoon when the cast of Mary Luckkenbill against Rev. L. G. Milby, pastor of the Nazarene church, was called.

Mrs. Luckenbill charged Rev. Mr. Milby with trespass and when the case came to trial Mr. Milby, who appeared as attorney for himself, called for a jury. Emmanuel Rosenberg represented the state's attorney in the case which was expected to last most of the afternoon.

REV. L. G. MILBY IS FINED $1 AND COSTS

Will Appeal Case to Circuit Court.

Rev. L. G. Milby was fined one dollar and costs by the justice of the peace jury which heard the case of Mrs. Mary Luckenbill against the Rev. L. G. Milby for trespass when it was tried before Justice Harry C Noble Monday afternoon.

Acting as his own attorney in the case, the Rev. Mr. Milby made a good impression and what was characterized by Emmanuel Rosenberg who appeared for the state's attorney's office, as a very good defense, basing his fight on the word "willfully" in the statute relating to trespassing.

MEMBERS OF FLOCK ATTEND.

More than 100 of the members of his congregation and other friends crowded the court room and overflowed into the corridors during the trial and many were the "Amens" "Thank the Lords" and other similar expressions made during the course of the trial which was held before a jury on the demand of Mr. Milby.

GET PROFESSIONAL COUNSEL.

The preacher-attorney had some difficulty with the technical rules of evidence and admitted, when the trial was over, that in the appeal to the circuit court, which he said he would make, he would have professional counsel.

The Rev. H. B. Garvin, pastor of the West Side Nazarene church, was also present at the trial and acted as cheer leader for the crowd of men, women and children who were present to hear the case and who applauded every point made by the defendant.

OUT THREE HOURS.

The jury of six men took three hours to reach the verdict of guilty.

NEED ARBITRATION IN COAL STRIKE

Commend Plan of President Harding.

"I believe the plan suggested by President Harding for the settling of the coal controversy between the miners and the operators is the right way out," said a Decatur coal operator Tuesday.

"I believe that we have reached a deadlock where some form of arbitration is necessary. I am not so sure, however, that the starting of the mines before the issue is settled is best except that it will tend to reduce the chances of a serious coal famine this fall and winter."

AT CONFERENCE.

G. C. Knickerbocker, of the Lovington Coal Co., was in Chicago last week attending a conference of coal operators with reference to the situation and the possibility of some form of arbitration being made acceptable to operators and miners alike.

At the request of President Harding none of the operators attending the meeting talked about it afterward.

FOREIGNS IN BETTER SHAPE

Reparations Act Causes German and French Advances.

BY STUART P. WEST.

Wall Street, New York, July 12.—A better feeling over the European financial situation, showing itself in further sharp recovery in the foreign exchanges and in foreign government bonds, was the principal influence in the markets today.

The definite stand taken by the president in the shopmen's strike, that it must not interfere with interstate commerce and the handling of the mails, was a very helpful incident. The day's stock market, encouraged by these developments, was more active and broader and altogether the strongest market of the month so far. The rise was more general and more important than on any day since the culmination of the spring campaign.

EFFECTS EXCHANGE.

The rally in exchange rates was directly due to the news that the reparations committee had reduced the July installment of 50,000,000 gold marks by 18,000,000 or 36 per cent. This action would have been much more significant had it been taken in answer to Germany's plea for relief.

The reduction was made only because Germany had delivered goods which had been turned into cash, allowing this cash to be applied toward next Saturday's payment Nevertheless it did ease the situation even if only temporarily.

GAINS HALF CENT.

France exchange getting above $ 20 was up nearly a half cent from Monday's extreme low. German marks around 25 hundredths of a cent compared with their low of 18¼ hundredths. The recovery in French and Belgian bonds extended to two points of substantially all the ground lost in Monday's session.

RAILS CONFIDENT.

The declaration by the president, following the protective measures of the state executives, meant that the whole power of government will be directed toward helping the roads in their efforts to keep train schedules running. It bears out the strongest point against the striker namely that in defying the labor board, they have defied the government itself and must fight the federal power as well as the carriers.

Under such circumstances there can be no doubt of the outcome, and Wall street today in the particular strength of the railroad stocks was expressing its confidence that the end would be soon. Dividend paying rails rose with the rest, but were not as conspicuous as the low priced non-dividend issues.

This class of stocks are undoubtedly favored by the changed attitude of the authorities regarding railway combinations. Not only are old time objections withdrawn but the interstate commerce commission is directly favoring it as being in the public interest, mergers like that proposed between New York Central and the Big Four.

MANY FEATURES.

Among the industrials there were many individual features. Studebaker in the motor group, Baldwin Locomotive among the equipments, Consolidated Gas and Columbia Gas among the public utilities, the electric stocks, leather, woolen and paper shares and stocks of the telegraph and cable companies were all at times in rather keen demand. Some new high prices for the year were reached and the general average, for both industrials and rails was not far from what it was before the swift reaction of the first two weeks in June.

COTTON.

New York, July 12—The weekly report of the Weather Bureau issued today proved a distinct disappointment to recent sellers in the cotton market. It contained no special criticism of weather conditions, but indicated that the much apprehended damage by boll weevil was already becoming severe in some sections while it also mentioned growth of weed to the detriment of fruit in others. Fair to good progress was reported in Texas and some parts of the belt, but the favorable features were offset by the complaints in other sections, and the references to boll weevil evidently made a considerable impression on sentiment.

The market opened steady at a decline of eight points on July, but generally 1 to 18 points higher, and sold about 8 to 18 points above yesterday's closing quotations right after the call on the more favorable view of European conditions and relatively steady Liverpool cables.

RAILWAY EXPRESS IN NEW CONTRACT

Chicago, July 12.—Railroads of the country will increase their earnings by $10,000,000 a year as a result of a new contract concluded by a majority of the carriers with the American Railway Express company.

The new contract which replaces the one expiring March 1, 1923, provides that the railroads shall receive 85 per cent of the revenue from express business and shall have more voice in determining the expenses to be incurred by the express company in handling this business.

WILL DIVIDE PROFITS.

Moreover, if the profits of the express company exceed 6 per cent on its property investment, the excess up to 8 per cent shall be divided equally between the company and the carriers, while if the profits exceed 8 per cent, 75 per cent of the excess over that figure shall go to the railroads.

STOCK LIST HAS DAY OF ACTIVITY

New York July 12.—Trading soon embraced every division of the stock list, dealings during the morning being the largest and most varied of any recent session. Noteworthy additions to early gains included Associated Oil, Lima Locomotive, American Smelting, National Lead, American Zinc common and preferred and Utah Copper at advances of 1 to 4 points.

GOOD DEMAND.

Studebaker enhanced its early gain as did also Gulf States Steel and several of the foreign oils. There was a steady demand for Coca Cola, Corn Products, American Woolen, chain and mail order issues and several of the chemicals.

Mackay companies again featured utilities at a further rise of 2½ points. Speculative interests were stimulated by the 3¾ per cent opening rate for call money.

The closing was irregular.

DECLINE OF ONE CENT IN OATS

No Change in Other Grains —Hogs Steady—Demand for Eggs.

Oats declined one cent a bushel Wednesday but station buyer prices on other grains held in spite of the rather weak market. Rains over all of the grain producing belt had a bearish tendency but oats alone felt it enough to make an actual decline in the cash grain.

Hogs are steady, maintaining their prices, particularly in the choice light grades.

Poultry and dairy products also remained unchanged with a good demand for all the first class eggs which are being offered.

CROPS HOLD ALL INTEREST

Commerce and Industry Seems Able to Cope with Situation.

Chicago, July 12.—Commercial and industrial leaders are confident they can trim the ship of trade to meet domestic squalls whether in the form of national labor troubles or local strikes, but the European situation has resulted in marked caution on the part of business men.

Strikes and rumors of strikes have failed to check the upward trend in this community although it has been temporarily retarded in certain fields. But the factor on which all eyes are riveted is the crop situation —not the grand total of production but the price which is still undetermined.

CANNOT BE PLOTTED.

Until the number of dollars to be received for the $250,000,000 exportable bushels of wheat has been determined the curve of future business activity cannot be plotted. At present the best news from Europe is not considered good news by grain men.

TRADING STEADY.

Trading in general has remained steady although it has reflected the caution mentioned above. The dry goods market this week, if taken as typical, would substantiate this.

There is an ample variety of display by a large number of firms and keen interest is shown but buying has been small in proportion. The same might be said of the packing industry although hides and leathers have not hesitated in their upward swing and a firm if quiet market is forecasted.

Although the menace of unemployment due to strikes is being brought close home to Chicago banking circles predict there will be no permanent check to relief from labor troubles.

BECOME IMPATIENT.

Philadelphia, July 12.—Business men in the anthracite regions are becoming impatient over the suspension of mining due to the strike. Many storekeepers gave their customers ninety days credit from April 1 when the strike started, expecting the strike would be ended before the expiration of that time and that with the miners back at work, the bills would be paid promptly. They do not want to extend further credits and are clamoring for the liquidation of the debts due them. Many miners have sought work on farms but earn far less than in the coal pits.

DELAY MERGER.

The holding up of plans for contemplated mergers of steel companies in this section is having a somewhat demoralizing effect on officers and employes of some of the companies concerned as even large owners and managers are at sea as to where they stand. The steel business has picked up wonderfully and there is some doubt as to whether some of the mergers will be put through even if the attorney general approves. This is adding to the confusion of the situation.

Penna is continuing to push road construction and contracts have just been let for work calling for the expenditure of $600,000.

MANY STOCK LOANS.

Ft. Worth, Tex., July 12.—The latest statement in the agricultural live stock finance corporation branch here shows a total of 926 loans outstanding, amounting to $5,230,000 dollars. John N. Sparks, president of the corporation, stated today that the excellent range condition as well as generally improving financial conditions has made the loans very desirable. The corporation was given its charter in 1921 after local bankers had sought for months to inaugurate a plan of finance that would relieve the credit situation of the cattle and agricultural industries of Texas. The plan was aided by the co-operation of the war finance corporation. Approximately 1,000 of the 2,000 applications for loans were favorably acted upon.

65 PER CENT AT WORK.

Pittsburgh, July 12.—It is estimated that 65 per cent of the normal forces of shopmen are at work in the railroad shops of the Pittsburgh district. Railroads declare the forces are increasing each day. All roads affected by the strike are advertising for men to take the places of employes who have walked out.

DRY GOODS.

New York, July 12—Although the cotton goods market has not been very responsive to the fluctuations of the raw staple, the cotton market the German financial situations have induced caution and trading except for special goods which were inactive. Print cloth constructions felt this and sales of spots at second hands were reported at a trifle under prevailing figures. There was fair inquiry for sheetings but drills, twills and sateens were dull, with a wider spread between bid and asked figures.

Raw silk was softer in reflection of the tone in Yokohama. Business in finished goods however, especially the crepe constructions has improved.

WOOL.

Boston, July 12—The wool market continued to follow the rut into which it has fallen despite some routine orders for filling in purposes. Buying seems to have run its course in the west. Both bidders and holders remain firm in their ideas in the western sections and as those ideas are growing wider apart, some clips have been withdrawn from the market. It is expected many of these will shortly find their way to Boston on consignment. The Australian markets were reported firm.

WHEAT FEELS RAIL RUMORS

Close Unsettled, September Going Down to $1.13 1-2.

Chicago, July 12.—Apprehension over continued rains delaying harvest led to fresh upturns in the price of wheat today during the early transactions. At first however, the market was bearishly affected by talk of a better outlook for settlement of the railroad strike. The subsequent rallies derived some of the impetus from reports of some damage by black rust in Minnesota.

The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to ⅝c lower with September $1.14 to $1.14¼ and December $1.15¾ to $1.16, were followed by a rise all around to above yesterday's finish.

DOWNWARD TURN.

Seemingly increased prospect of a rail strike settlement did a good deal to turn wheat downward in price today throughout the last half of the board of trade session. Profit taking sales and slowness of export demand were contributing bearish factors. The close was unsettled 5/8c to 1¼c net lower with September $1.13 to $1.13½ and December $1.15½ to $1.15⅝.

STAND INDEPENDENT.

Corn and oats displayed independent firmness owing to gossip that exporters were after corn. Initial prices for corn ranging from ⅛@¼c decline to ¼c advance with September at 64⅝c to 64¾c were soon succeeded by moderate general gains.

CORN CLOSE WEAK.

Later the market receded when wheat prices underwent a material sag. Corn closed weak, ⅝c to ¾c net lower with September at 64.

LITTLE HELD.

Many interior dealers who have sold wheat for shipment by July 20 were asking today for an extension of time. However, the trade gave but little attention to bullish news after prices had started downward.

Oats started ⅛c to ¼c off September 37½c to 37⅝c, and later scored upturns.

Higher quotations on hogs gave a lift to provisions.

GOOD YIELDS OF WHEAT REPORTED

One Farmer Gets 39 Bushels to Acre.

Threshing is going on at several places near Decatur this week. A. M. Nickey, a farmer living several miles east of Decatur, threshed Monday. His wheat yielded twenty-three bushels to the acre. There were twenty-two acres in his field.

Late last week several farmers near Warrensburg secured wheat yields of thirty-four bushels an acre, another farmer in the same threshing ring secured thirty-nine bushels an acre.

The wheat weighed from fifty-nine to sixty pounds to the bushel. This was not anticipated on account of the chinch bugs this year.

IN CHRISTIAN COUNTY.

Early reports from Christian county give the average yield there thus far as being about twenty-five bushels an acre. Here too the wheat weighs from fifty-eight to sixty pounds a bushel.

Harding Asks That Mails Move

Washington, July 12—President Harding in a proclamation, issued at the White House late Tuesday night, directed "all persons to refrain from all interferen e with the lawful efforts to maintain interstate transportation and the carrying of the United States mails."

In the proclamation, which was issued after a day in which continued reports had reached the postoffice department of interference by railroad strikers with mail trains, the president invited the co-operation of all public authorities, state and municipal, and the "aid of all good citizens," to uphold the laws and to "facilitate those operations in safety which are essential to life and liberty, and the security of property and our common public welfare."

"Whereas, the United States railroad labor board has recently handed down decisions, one affecting the wage of the shop craft employes, the other declaring the contract system of shop craft work without side agencies to be contrary to the intent of the transportation act, and, therefore, that such practice must be discontinued; and

"Whereas, the shop craft employes have elected to discontinue their work, rather than abide by the decision rendered, and certain operators have ignored the decision ordering the abandonment of the contract shop practice; and

"HAVE RIGHT TO WORK."

"Whereas, the maintained operation of the railways in interstate commerce and the transportation of United States mails have necessitated the employment of men who choose to accept employment under the terms of the decision, and who have the same indisputable right to work that others have to decline to work, and,

At the close of the evening's entertainment many remained to shake hands with him. COMMON SENSE—PLUS!

There's a quality in people that for want of a better name will have to be called "uncommon sense."

It's that little something extra that makes a person appreciate the opportunities to save money and gain satisfaction that fill The Review's Classified columns every day.

Not that common sense isn't all right—in its way. It tells you to make your money go as far as it can and bring you as much as possible in return.

But that's about as far as common sense generally goes. Too often it stops short of results.

It's the people with uncommon sense who are getting what they want and saving their money through the opportunities offered in The Review's Classified columns every day.

There's profit and satisfaction there for you today—tomorrow—every day that you read The Review's Classified ads!

PUT UP NOTICES OF INJUNCTIONS

Wabash Men Served By U. S. Deputy.

QUIET ABOUT SHOPS

Passenger Traffic Beginning to Fall Off.

Wabash and Illinois Central buildings in Decatur were pretty well covered late Tuesday afternoon and early Wednesday morning with copies of the restraining order issued to these two roads against the striking shopmen and maintenance of way branch in the federal court at Bloomington. They are even posted in doors and windows of the Wabash station and on sign posts in the yards and at about every 100 feet on the fences around the roundhouse.

The Illinois Central depot did not seem to be placarded with them but other buildings in the yards had a notice tacked up in many places

SERVED ON MEN.

U. S. Deputy Marshal L. R. Moore of Peoria, was serving the orders on many of the Wabash men around their meeting hall Wednesday morning, but did not seem to be making an effort to serve it on every striker, as it had been reported was done in other shop towns He simply seemed to read to those whose names are mentioned among the defendants and to others present.

In fact, these wasn't much reading to it. The men gathered around in their usual good humor and when the deputy asked them if they wanted to hear it read, practically all of them replied that it wasn't necessary as they had read the printed notices Whereupon, the deputy finished the rest of his job by handing the men copies of the order and then taking their names in order to know on whom he had served papers.

HENSON AT MEETING.

Attorney James A Henson attended a meeting of the executive board held in the Vic and Fritz hall during Wednesday morning to the purpose of giving an interpretation of the restraining order to the men.

An official of one of the miners' locals in Decatur was present at the time.

"Say, this injunction isn't anything compared with the on the Decatur Coal company got out against us back in about 1910," he said. "This is only about two pages and the one issued against us back about twelve years ago was about a half-inch thick and even ordered us not to speak to or collect ues from some of our members who had been suspended, not even on the street or on other property and some of the these were members who were wanting to pay their dues and get back into the union"

C. I. & W. TRAINS OFF.

Whether effects of the shopmen's strike or the shortage of coal, the C. I. and W. does not state, but that road put out a notice Wednesday morning that effective at once, passenger trains Nos 10-11 between Decatur and Indianapolis had been taken off until further notice and that practically this same train east of Indianapolis but under other numbers, was also taken off.

No. 10 is the train arriving in Decatur from Indianapolis at about 11:57 a. m. and No. 11 goes east out of Decatur at 5 o'clock in the morning. This leaves but one train each way a day now between Decatur and Indianapolis.

ON WABASH.

A statement printed elsewhere to the effect that the taking off of the two local passenger trains on the Wabash between Decatur and Danville would leave the intervening towns without any U. S. mail service is incorrect as other trains, it is said, will drop off and pick up mail at those places on the mail cranes.

BUSINESS AFFECTED.

There has been a slight falling off noticeable in passenger travel in the last few days, especially among vacationists, many of whom do not care to go away if there is some possibility of train service being interrupted before they can get back home.

It is reported that about twenty or twenty-five more workmen were put to work at the Wabash roundhouse, cinder pits and coal docks Tuesday night and while the number was not available, the union men said some more of the non-union men had quit work.

Conditions were even more quiet than ever around the railroad station Wednesday morning and no groups of the strikers were to be seen standing around. Occasionally one or two of the men came around, stood around a time, and then went on.

There was no evidence of picket work whatever, other than for one of the men to scan the windows of the passenger trains as they came in.

LOCAL VIEWS ON PLANS.

Decatur Leaders Say Strikers Are Winning and Time Shows It.

Talk among railroad men in ranks other than shop crafts drifted Wednesday to two things, the possibility of a settlement with railroad companies direct and possibility of sympathetic strikes of transportation department and other brotherhoods.

As to the former, the matter of settling with railroad companies direct—this could only be accomplished by all railroads joining together as the craft national leaders insist on a nation-wide settlement and not individual settlements on scattered roads

As to the possibility of sympathetic strikes, there would be no local official information on that, as such matters have to be handled through the national offices and any such action probably depends on future developments, One of the leading Decatur railroad union officials stated Wednesday that "the crafts do not need other organizations to come out for they are winning anyway and a few more days will begin to show. They could even withdraw and let the railroad import workers and still win because they cannot get the skilled mechanics to take the places of the men who are out."

WILL MAKE DEFENSE.

Local Shopmen To Appear Next Monday In U. S. Court.

"It is entirely likely that we will go to Springfield next Monday morning to defend ourselves against the issuance of an injunction" said A. D Mercer, chairman of the roundhouse branch of the local federated crafts Wednesday "but I cannot say just what we will do as that is a matter entirely up to our legal adviser."

Chairman Mercer said there was no matter of business connected with the first paid by Chairman Lee and himself to Superintendent Hess Wednesday other than just to joke with Mr. Hess.

RAILROAD NOTES.

J A Braden who has been chairman for Wabash clerks union local No. 489 here for several years resigned this position at the meeting Tuesday night and Harold Payne, who is also secretary of the local, was elected to fill the place Braden resigns because his new duties as chief clerk at the locomotive shops prevents his having time to handle the work

Tuesday was an unusually big stock day for the Wabash and this is always the biggest day of the week for the road in stock business In all the road handled 122 cars of stock into Chicago, fifty-eight of these coming from the Springfield division, forty-four from the T P and W at Forrest and twenty coming in from the south

The grain car demand on the Decatur division of the Wabash still continues to be for about 100 cars a day However the general rains of the past day or two have put a temporary halt to threshing and for that reason the number of car orders is dropping off for a few days

Ten extra brakemen were cut from the extra board of the Wabash 9th and 13th districts Wednesday morning This cut reached up and caught Rickey, the oldest man to be cut off and left Quinn the youngest on the board.

William Harpstrite, who has been a Wabash yard clerk for several years is taking a leave of absence and is planning to leave right away for the west on account of his health.

MAKE ENTRIES FOR TENNIS MEET

Much Interest in District Tournament.

Both single and double entries are coming in for the District Tennis tournament on the Y. M. C. A. courts, starting July 24. Fourteen Decatur men have entered the singles division and three doubles teams have also signed up. Many more are expected.

The three doubles teams already entered are experienced racquet wielders who have competed in tournaments before. They are, West and Dougherty, Dawson and Becker, and Catlin and Haines

LIVELY COMPETITION.

The tournament is open to all male residents of Piatt, Moultrie, Douglas, Coles, Shelby, Christian and Macon Counties, and the cream of tennis stars from central Illinois will furnish lively competition

Press notices have been sent to the newspapers of the various counties and a great deal of interest in being manifested. Trophies are offered for each division and the winners will be sent to Springfield to compete in the state tournament.

This is Lloyd's first effort at what might be called serious comedy and is a full length, five reel production.

LET CONTRACTS FOR WORK ON SCHOOLS

Painting to Be Done At Three Buildings.

The plumbing and heating contract of the new Central Junior high school annex was let at a special meeting of the board of education Tuesday afternoon to Fred W. Schlie for $5,316.

OTHER CONTRACTS.

The painting of the Jasper Street school building was let to Meyer & Son for $763. The high bid on this job was $1,214.50.

Meyer & Son also took the contract for painting the Jackson Street school for $930. The high bid was $1,380.

J. O. Spence was awarded the contract for painting the Roach school at a bid of $577, The high bid was $680. Only part of this building is to be painted this year.

EMPLOY TWO TEACHERS

Two teachers were employed at this meeting and one resignation was accepted, Miss Myrtle Cooper and Miss Olive Rogers were the teachers employed. Miss Rogers taught in the Roach school last year and had been granted leave of absence to attend school next year. She found that this could not be made to fit into her plans and asked for reappointment.

Miss Cooper's home is in Bloomington and she is new to the Decatur school system. She was to have been appointed earlier in the season but in some way her name was accidentally omitted from the list of appointments.

The resignation of Lucella Wieser, a teacher in the Jackson Street school, was presented and accepted.

RED MAN VISITS LOCAL CASTLE

Decatur Nem Ders Second to Be Organized in Illinois.

James Wadsworth, deputy imperial grand knight of the Knights of Nem Der, the ninth degree of Red Manship, was in Decatur Sunday morning looking after the local castle recently organized, in Decatur. He came over from Indianapolis, where he helped institute a castle of Nem Ders Saturday night with 113 charter members.

NEW ORGANIZATION.

This degree is a new thing in Decatur as well as in the United States. It was organized only last October at the Great Council of Red Men in Iowa and now has castles all over the United States. It is purely an American organization and none but 100 per cent Americans can join. The Decatur castle is the second one in Illinois, the other being in Chicago. Springfield, Bloomington and Peoria will soon organize.

CONTINUE HEARING ON WOODBINE PARK

Will Be Held July 21—Regret Sale of Park.

Hearing on the objections to the approval of the sale of Woodbine park, which was to be held by County Judge J. H. McCoy Wednesday morning, was continued until July 21.

For some time there has been agitation among those who own cottages in Woodbine park for an effort to secure the refusal of the court to approve the sale of the park which was recently made to Charles W. Seymour who announced that he intended to give it to the state Y. M. C. A. for a state camp for Y. M. C. A. boys

STAY TILL SEPT. 15.

Mr. Seymour bought the park for $15,025 and announcement was made that cottagers could remain in their cottages there until Sept. 15 this year as it would not be possible to make it into a Y. M. C. A. park for this year.

Ever since the sale the cottagers have regretted that they did not arrange to purchase the land which was sold at auction to pay the debts of the Ulery estate.

ISSUE PROGRAM FOR COMMUNITY SING

Favorite Old Songs Are Included.

Starting at 7:30 and continuing until 8 o'clock Thursday evening, the first community sing will be held on the lawn at the Art Institute, under the direction of D. M. Swarthout, with M. L. Swarthout at the piano. One of the features of the evening will be the singing of "The Home Road," suggested by some as the typical song for Illinois. Mr. Swarthout said that this song was, in his estimation, the best song of the ones written during the war, and suggested it for the state song, at a meeting in Springfield some time ago. It was written by Carpenter, a Chicago man.

PROGRAM.

The program for Thursday evening will be given in order as follows:

"My Old Kentucky Home."
"Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms."
"I Love a Lassie."
"Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes."
"The Home Road."
"Juanita."
"Mother Machree."
"Peggy O'Neil."
"Perfect Day."
"Auld Lang Syne."

PROVIDE SEATS

Printed programs with words will be given out. Seats will be provided. It is urged that there be a large attendance, as this is the first affair of this kind to be given by the directors of the Art Institute, and it is hoped that it will be a success.

Church Notes

Mrs. W. S. Henderson, 616 West Forest avenue, entertained the members of district 5 of the First Baptist church Tuesday afternoon in her home instead of the society meeting in Lincoln park, due to inclement weather.

It was decided that white cross work will be taken up this fall. Other routine business was taken up. Mrs. Cooks of Springfield, Mo., was an out of town guest. Refreshments of lemon ice and cakes were served in the social hour, which followed.

The next meeting will be held the first week in August at the home of Mrs. E. A. Miner, 803 West Decatur street. The event will be pot luck.

ENTERTAIN GIRLS OF WELFARE HOME

Picnic Supper Is Served, Followed By Games On Lawn.

A number of girls from Mrs. E. T. Evans' Sunday school class of the First Methodist church entertained the girls of the Welfare Home Tuesday evening with a picnic supper, on the lawn of the home. Members of the class brought sandwiches, salad, beans, pickles, ice cream and cake, and other things good to eat. Following the supper, the girls played games on the lawn, and entertained the children.

PLACE NEW SIGN AT BOYS' HOME

Work and Material Were Donated.

The new sign for the Boys' Opportunity Home is completed and has been placed at the Home, the words on the sign being, "Decatur and Macon County Boys' Opportunity Home."

A number of local concerns have made the sign possible, through their help. The Lyon Lumber company made the sign, Ralph Linder painted it, Roy Christy and carpenters put it up, the Swisher Lumber company donated the lumber, and Myer and Sons furnished the paint for it, making it quite a cosmopolitan affair. It is very attractive in appearance, being in black and white.

An opportunity is offered for boys to demonstrate their skill in making Martin bird houses. It will be greatly appreciated if any boys, who like to make bird houses and would be interested in making two such houses for the Home, would call Main 5498. The houses will be placed on either end of the sign on newly painted white trellises, which will be covered with vines next summer.

CITY BUDGET IS NOT YET READY

Cannot Be Presented to the Council Thursday.

"No, I don't think that I will have the budget ready for the council meeting Thursday," said Commissioner J. W. Montgomery Wednesday when asked if he would have the annual ordinance for the appropriations prepared for the council meeting this week.

"There are a number of items, particularly those connected with the water impounding project, which must all be put together so that there will be no mistake about the money which will be left for the normal city use."

Coal bills and freight on coal are taking a big bite from the city funds. Commissioner Harry Ruthrauff is also convinced that a new boiler will be needed at the city pumping station at a cost of $7,500.

WOULD EXTEND N. WATER PAVING

To Connect with New Hard Road When Built.

A. M. Kenney representing the Decatur Association of Commerce, T. J. Prentice, head of the Retail Merchants association, and M. C. Nelson, president of the Decatur motor club, will appear before the city council Thursday with the suggestion that North Water street be paved from the end of the present pavement to Brenneman Lane, the city limits, where the new hard road which is to be built this fall, will start.

These men met Mayor C. M. Borchers Wednesday in regard to this much needed piece of paving and he suggested that they appear before the city council Thursday morning with estimates as to costs and with arguments as to the need of the improvement.

MR. MATTES HAS GARDEN PRODUCE

Is Enjoying New Green Corn and Fine Tomatoes.

Commissioner J. E. Mattes is enjoying new green corn and fine tomatoes from his own big garden these days.

Mr. Mattes garden is looked upon by his neighbors in the light of a junior farm and the commissioner gets his "golf" with a hoe instead of a mashie. He usually plays considerably more than eighteen holes a day, too.

ASK INJUNCTION AGAINST BORDEN

Drives Buses Into Faries Despite Owners' Wishes.

Praying that an injunction be issued against Jona Borden, the Borden Bus Co., Inc., and John Blake, restraining them from driving their buses into Faries park, Florence B. Irving, L. May Walbridge and William Walton asserted in their bill, filed in the circuit court Wednesday that those named in the petition were driving into the park against the express prohibition of the petitioners.

DECATUR BUS CO. HAS RIGHT.

In the bill it is also stated that the exclusive right to bring passengers into the park by this method of transportation has been granted to the Decatur Bus Co, and that the Borden people refuse to stay away from the park.

William Walton is named as a partner of the other two complainants, who own the park. The statement is made that it is a private park and to insure good transportation service it is necessary that the business go to one concern to be profitable and that this concession had been granted to the Decatur Bus Co. for a valuable consideration

The bill for the injunction was filed by McMillen & McMillen, attorneys for Mrs. Irving, Mrs. Walbridge and William Walton.

STRIKE POOL OF OIL IN WELL NO. 2

Expect Larger Deposit At Greater Depth.

CONTINUE DRILLING

Will Probably Shoot Well Next Week.

They are still drilling in Lincoln oil well No. 2 and will continue to drill until there are indications that the well is approaching water. Nobody is able to say how much farther this will be but it is expected that the well will go at least forty feet farther. It is now at a depth of 2,692 feet.

STRIKE POOL.

A pool of oil was struck at this depth Tuesday afternoon that assures the company that they have a real oil well but they are still of the opinion that a greater deposit will be found at a greater depth. The drillers are now feeling their way carefully and the sand is tested every five feet. At the first indication that they are approaching water the drilling will stop and the well will be shot. It is expected that the shooting of the well will take place next week.

SAND DIFFERENT.

"It is easy to tell when the well is nearing water," said one of the officers of the company. "Water sand is as different from oil sand as day is from night Water sand contains crystals and has a salty taste. Oil sand contains no crystals, it is of a dark brown color, and it tastes oily."

THREE PAYS TO BE SHOT.

There will be three pays to be shot in No. 2 well, one in Niagara and two in Trenton rock. The first was that which was shot in No. 1 well, the second the first show of oil in Niagara sand, and the third that which was struck Tuesday afternoon. By shooting the three the well will get the oil from all of them. The lower two will be shot at the same time and a separate shot will be arranged for the top one. It is possible that another pay may be found before the drilling ceases and this is known to oil men as stinking lime because the odor is that of rotten eggs.

HAVE REAL OIL WELL.

"We now know that we have a real oil well," said an officer of the company Wednesday morning. Previous to this we had merely a show of oil but now we have oil. We are now at a depth of 122 feet in Trenton. The best paying wells in Illinois are at a depth of 140 to 200 feet in Trenton and this is our reason for continuing the drilling."

WITHDRAW SOME TROOPS FROM SHOPS AT BLOOMINGTON

Bloomington, Ill., July 12—Soldiers were withdrawn from most of the railway yards this morning and a few sheriff's deputies replaced them. Col Culbertson promised the four brotherhoods that the troops would move from the shop area as fast as possible.

DECATUR TROOPS HAVE COMFORTS ON STRIKE DUTY

Clinton, July 12.—Everything was quiet at the Illinois Central shops Wednesday morning when The Review representative interviewed Captain Armstrong and Sergeant H. M. Wheeler of the Decatur company, and the soldiers of that company, together with those of the Champaign and Paxton companies, are having the time of their young lives.

Bathing in the bath houses with hot and cold showers is becoming too tame as a recreation and a number of the boys enjoyed a swim in the large reservoir lying north of the shops. The boys, when not on guard duty, are amusing themselves with various games.

GET THE REVIEW.

All games halt, however, when the Decatur Review is delivered at the shops by an orderly each afternoon, arrangements having been made with The Review for a copy for every man to be sent to Clinton.

The Decatur company is now permanently located back of the round house, at a considerably greater distance from the shops than their first location. They have electric lights, city telephone and other conveniences in their quarters, and are well supplied with appetizing food.
